FIREMEN AT CANTON

Five County Volunteers Had a Splendid Parade Thursday.

FAKIRS RUN OUT OF TOWN.

Firemen Made Short Work of Gamblers—Bache Hose of Welsboro Gathered in the Prizes—Weather Conditions Ideal and Crowd Large.

At the business meeting of the eleventh annual convention of the Five-County Volunteer Firemen's association, held in the parlors of Innes Hose company at Canton Aug. 15 afternoon, these officers were elected: President, E. G. Humphrey, Towanda; first vice-president, Stephen H. Holland, Blossburg; second vice-president, R. J. Davis, Galeton; treasurer, Charles P. Welles, Towanda; secretary, P. E. Decker, Athens. Mr. Welles has been treasurer of the association since its organization, and Mr. Decker was elected secretary last year.

Galeton was selected as the place for the convention of 1907. The convention of three years ago was entertained there. A resolution was adopted requiring that hereafter towns asking for the convention pledge to make all prizes $40 for first and $25 for second place.

The ball game Wednesday afternoon between Canton and Corning, was won by the former with a score of 14 to 1.

Thursday evening a banquet and reception to the officers and delegates was given in the Packard House.

The eleventh annual parade of the Five County Volunteer Firemen's association at Canton Thursday forenoon was a brilliant success, 20 companies and ten bands being in line. The day was an ideal one and the town was beautifully decorated. Over 2,000 visitors were on hand. Towanda contributed 200 people, who with about 100 from Athens and Sayre left Towanda at 6 o'clock that morning.

Handsome Parade.

The parade was formed at 10 o'clock, with Chief Marshal C. A. Innes in command. The first division, with F. A. Innes, chief engineer of the Canton department, as marshal, was led by the Germania band. The first company in line was the Franklin Steamer company of Towanda, with 27 men; Naiad Hose, Towanda, 27; Mantua Hook and Ladder, Towanda, 26; Wellsville, N. Y., drum corps; McEwen Hose and Chemical, 24; Wellsville; Hawes Hose, Towanda, 27.

The second division was commanded by M. M. King, first assistant chief engineer of Canton. Hosmer's Marine band, Athens; Protection Hose, Athens, 32; Union Hose, Athens, 24; Galeton drum corps; Gale Hose, Galeton, 25.

Third division, C. J. Crawford, marshall. Wellsboro Military band; Beach Hose, Wellsboro, 17; J. E. Wheelock Hose, Sayre, 15.

Fourth division, R. B. Smith, marshall. Troy band; Oscaluwa Engine and Hose, Troy, 39; Coudersport Hook and Ladder, 27; Independent Hook and Ladder, Elmira Heights, 16; Crary Hose, Westfield, 11; Mist Hose, Blossburg, 11.

Fifth division, James Buck, marshall. Northern Central band, Elmira; Elmira Exempt Firemen, 36; Pattison Hose, Elkland, 25; Canton Military band; Innes Hose, Canton; Independent Hook and Ladder, Canton, 20; Firemen's association delegates, visiting chiefs, chief burgess and town council in carriages.

The Exempts of Elmira, and the McEwen Hose and Chemical of Wellsville, N. Y., were visitors. The latter company made a very handsome appearance in a uniform of wine color, coats, trousers and caps to match, carrying Japanese umbrellas. The Mantua Hook and Ladder company of Towanda wore for the first time their new uniforms and carried their new banner.

Short Shrift for Gamblers.

The Canton town council had licensed a number of fakirs, who after getting down to business proved to be gamblers, and who openly plied their trade. Five of these gentry had their stands near the Packard House. The most exciting event of the day was when the visiting firemen, becoming disgusted with the robberies, took the matter into their own hands and drove the gamblers out of town with a rush. A rope was tied to one stand in front of the Packard House and the whole outfit pulled into the street and dragged for a considerable distance. The operator was then given an opportunity to get out, which he promptly did.

One of the fakirs made objection to the actions of the crowd and "talked back." A rope was thrown around him and preparations were being made to elevate him to the top of a telephone pole when Canton men came to his rescue and he was taken to a room in a hotel and hidden.

Awards in Contests.

The various contests and races were held in the afternoon. The prize of $25 for the best appearing company in line was given Protection Hose of Athens. A like sum went to the Oscoluwas of Troy for having the largest number of uniformed men in line. The company coming the greatest distance was the Coudersport department and they also received $25. The McEwens of Wellsville, proved to be the best Hose and Chemical in line.

The hub and hub race, prize $25, went to the Bache Hose of Wellsboro, their time being 21½ seconds. The hook and ladder race went to the Baches without a contest, no other company running. Bache Hose also won the hose race, time 39 seconds.

In the prize drill contest at Canton, Franklin Steamer company, No. 1 carried off the first prize in the drill contest, Naiads, No. 2, taking second; the Towanda companies were the only firemen having nerve to enter the contest. The cash prizes are $25 for first, and $15 for second place.

Elmira's "all-college" team took two games of base ball from the crack Canton team, both games being fast and well played. The score of the first game was 6 to 3 in Elmira's favor, the second being 8 to 3, also in favor of the college boys.

LAW GOVERNING NATURALIZATION.

Clerk of United States Court Has Received a Letter of Instruction.

Clerk of the United States Court E. R. W. Searle is in receipt of a letter of instruction from James Rudolph Garfield, acting secretary of the department of commerce and labor, bearing on the application of the new naturalization law, approved by President Roosevelt on June 29, 1906. This law will go into effect on Sept. 7.

A copy of the new law accompanied the letter of instructions, and shows that state courts, in which suits for unlimited amounts may be brought, and having a seal and a clerk, have the power to naturalize within the jurisdiction of said courts.

One of the most drastic provisions of the new law is that the applicant for final papers must be able to speak the English language. Another important feature is that a person having been naturalized and later taking up a residence in a foreign country, will have his naturalization certificate canceled.

No alien who, previous to the enactment of the new law has declared his intention, will be obliged to renew such declaration, but having made his declaration and failing to become naturalized within seven years, his declaration is void. Another advantage the alien has who has previously declared his intention is that under the new law he will be obliged to sign his name with his own hand. The identification marks of which notes are taken, are nearly as thorough as the Bertillon system, used for the better identification of criminals.

The oath that the applicant must take under the new law is a little more far reaching than the old forms, and the petition must also set forth certain facts that he is not a disbeliever in or opposed to organized government, or a member of or affiliated with any organization teaching such disbelief; that he is not a polygamist, or a believer in polygamy, and that he is become a permanent resident of the United States.

The petition must be signed by two witnesses, citizens of the United States, who have known the applicant to be a resident for at least five years. If he has borne any hereditary title, or has been of any order of nobility from the kingdom or state from which he came, he shall renounce all such honors. Should an applicant die after declaring his intentions and before becoming naturalized, his widow and minor children may be naturalized without a declaration of intention.

The petitions of the applicants must be posted conspiciously in the building in which is the office of the clerk of the courts. Every final hearing must be in open court and no person will be naturalized within 30 days of an election.

Penalties are imposed on clerks for neglect of duty. Fines and imprisonment threaten for fraud in connection therewith. For fraud on the part of the applicant or of the witnesses, fines of $10,000 and imprisonment of ten years make tampering with this law something to be dreaded.

New Postal Ruling.

Those receiving postal cards from foreign countries are frequently obliged to pay postage due on them to the amount of ten cents. It is customary in foreign countries to divide the front of souvenir cards in two parts, half for the address and half for correspondence. This is in violation of the rule in the United States that nothing but the address may be written on the face of the card, hence the extra postage. By an act recently passed, after Oct. 1, 1907, these will be received at the ordinary rate, instead of charging letter rate.

Court Rules That Trolley Line Need Pay Only State Taxes.

LAW SUIT STARTED BY SAYRE.

County and Borough Officials Tested Law Which Seeks to Combine Entire Corporation Tax Into One Paid to the State—Other Decisions.

Several court decisions of wide interest were handed down by Judge A. C. Fanning on Saturday afternoon. In the case in which the Waverly, Sayre & Athens Traction company is plaintiff and the Borough of Sayre and County of Bradford the defendants, the trolley company has won a decision by which they escape the payment of borough and county taxes for the year 1904, because during that year a law relative to the taxation of corporations took effect.

A suit similar to the one just decided by Judge Fanning, is pending in the courts of Tioga county, N. Y. The Borough of Sayre and County of Bradford petitioned for the right to levy on the property of the W., S. & A. company. The trolley people at once entered a counter-complaint and now, by Judge Fanning's decision, it is ordered and decreed that the defendants be restrained from the collection of taxes for the year 1904, and from in any way, by levy, sale, or otherwise, interfering with the power house or other property of the W., S. & A. company.

Attorney Rodney A. Mercur was attorney for the trolley people, while for the county and borough appeared Wm. Maxwell, Esq., I. N. Evans, Esq., and C. C. Yocum, Esq.

Pease Vs. Doane.

Another decision is in the case of Edward E. Pease vs. Samuel Doane, O. L. Haverly, terre tenant and real owner. Rule for a new trial is discharged. The question presented, from a legal standpoint is very interesting.

Samuel Doane gave a mortgage to Dr. E. E. Pease for $1,156.85, it being the first lien on his farm in Windham townshrip. After the mortgage was given the mortgagor sold the farm to his father, Joseph Doane, no allusion being made to the mortgage. Joseph Doane was in poor health and a con- and Dr. Pease, the mortgage,e with the result that Doane agreed to convey the farm, which was worth a small amount above the mortgage, to Dr. Pease. Two or three days later this was done, the holder of the mortgage becoming also the owner of the farm against which it was a lien. Before this conveyance to Dr. Pease a judgment had been entered against Joseph Doane and one L. F. Doane in favor of O. L. Haverly, cashier of the Farmer's National Bank of Athens, for $1,280. There was also another lien of $300, both of which were subsequent to the mortgage.

After Dr. Pease took title the Farmers National bank issued an execution, levied and sold the farm on said subsequent lien, and became the purchaser of the same at the sheriff's sale. Notice was given by Dr. Pease of his mortgage and that the land would be sold subject to the same. After the sheriff's sale Dr. Pease issued a scire facias to enforce the payment of his mortgage against the farm, naming Samuel Doane and O. L. Haverly the purchaser, as terre tenant and real owner. The defense was upon the ground that the mortgage was extinguished or merged for the reason that the mortgagee could not hold a mortgage against his own land. The case was tried before a jury and resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff. Reasons for a new tral were filed.

The law governing the question as stated by the court is largely a matter of intention. There was no express agreement between the parties as to whether the mortgage should remain in force . The intention of the parties could only be gathered from the facts and surrounding circumstances. It is also stated that where the intention of the parties is not clear the equities of the case may have consideratble bearing in determining whether or not there has been a merger. There are authorities to the effect that under such circumwhere it is to a holder's interest or advantage the lien should be preserved. Equity will not hold the mortgage extinguished. Under the circumstances the court discharged the rule for new trial.

Wm. Maxwell, Esq., appeared for the plaintiff and J. T. Corbin, Esq., for the defendants.

In the case of Martin H. Struhm vs. Clarence Doty; rule on defendant to bring his action of ejectment within six months or be forever barred therefrom. Rule absolute and judgment rendered for plaintiff for land described in petition.

Estate of Susan Sharpe; exceptions dismissed and report of auditor finally confirmed.

Jessie S. Molyneux vs. Jabez M. Molyneux; divorce decreed.

J. L. McCaskey vs. Belmar Mfg. Co. Plaintiff permitted to file amended statement.

The Northern Electrical Mfg. Co. vs. the Drury Mfg. Co., mechanics liens. Rule granted on plaintiff to show cause why said claim shall not be stricken off. Returnable to first Monday in October next.

John Sullivan et al vs. Catherine M. Sullivan, et al. Petition in equity. Aug. 17, 1906, real estate in South Waverly borough sold at public sale at the court house in Towanda, by Raymond W. McPherson, master, to Mrs. Catherine M. Sullivan of South Waverly, for $650. Sale confirmed by the court and the master directed to deed and convey the said real estate in fee simple upon payment of purchase money.

L. L. Case vs. Charles B. Smith, equity. Rule granted on plaintiff to show cause why he shall not give security for costs on or before Sept. 1, or suffer decree to be entered against him for want of such security.

Upon petition of taxpayers of Litchfield township, court appoint Nathan F. Walker surveyor, Bradley Kinney and Chas. N. Beers viewers, to view the site of a proposed county bridge over the creek between Hunt's mill and the Hunt school house on the road known as the Hunt Hollow road leading to Nichols.

JUDGE CAMERON OF TIOGA ON TIMBER TAX REBATES.

He Has Handed Down an Opinion Declaring Law Unconstitutional.

Judge Cameron, of the Tioga county courts,has handed down an opinion in a case stated declaring unconstitutional the act of 1905, allowing tax rebates on forest lands. The act has not been satisfactory either to the taxing powers or to the taxed. The opinion is of widespread interest, because it is the first time that the validity of the act has been questioned.

It provides that owners of timber lands having not less than fifty trees to the acre, each tree at least eight inches in diameter at height of six feet from the ground, should have all taxes, local and country, abated 80 per cent. of the levy on said timber lands, of not more than fifty acres.

Charles Tubbs of Osceola, applied to the commissioners for a rebate, as allowed by law, and complied with all the requirements of the act. The commissioners declined payment on the ground that the act is unconstitutional, because Section 1 of Article 9 of the Constitution reads that "all taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the taxes," and the court sustains the defendant commission.

BIG STORMS PASS OVER.

Heavy Rains and Destructive Lightning Visit Other Sections of State.

The heavy, rain-laden clouds which have passed over and around this valley for the past few days have descended copiously at other points. At Chambersburg, Sunday, one of the most severe storms that ever visited that section burst upon the town. The thunder was deafening, and continuous for about three hours. Rain fell in torrents, swelling streams and sweeping away much standing corn. Several barns were struck by lightning and destroyed. One of these belonged to Gideon Rahauser, near town. It was completed last Spring at a cost of $4000. All the contents were burned.

Bradford County Helps Broome.

Constable Guy C. Hollon was on Tuesday able to render valuable assistance to District Attorney Roger Clark of Broome county, N. Y., of which Binghamton is the county town. The Binghamton authorities have under arrest Harry Miller, and learning that he was a former resident of Towanda they asked Mr. Hollon for information of Miller's past life. In 1902, Miller, who though but 23 years of age is married and has one child, was convicted here of highway robbery; he beat and robbed a drunken lumberman, leaving his victim helpless on the Lehigh Valley tracks where he was found and rescued. Owing to his youthfulness Miller was released under a supended sentence. He is now charged by Broome county officials with burglary and thievery and is to have a hearing this week.

More Light on Railroads.

Charles B. Pentz of Walton, Kan., who claims to have been the first inventor of the automatic coupler, is again in the limelight with a new invention which he is explaining to the railroad officials with a view to their adopting it. The device is for the purpose of warning passengers in advance of a train's aproach at night. Instead of using a headlight, an automatic arrangement is suggested by which a moving locomotive turns on automatically all lights on a road a mile in advance of the train. The glare of the electric lights would warn passengers of the approach of the train, with the result that accidents might be minimized. In brief, the invention means a continuous electric system, which would light up the right of way one mile in advance of the train.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Grand Jury Gets to Work and Returns Indictments.

ITALIAN FOUNDLING'S CASE.

Child Abandoned at Lamoka is Placed in Charge of a Probation Officer—Arbitrators Chosen in an Athens Case—Prosecutors Get Costs.

Green, Armenia; Wesley Hanscom, Troy; John Hoffman, Wilmot; Austin L. Kenyon, Springfield; Horace M. Moody, Springfield; Michael McCarty, Ulster; William Martin, Towanda; Milo Oakley, Pike; Jerome Perry, Monroe; Eugene W. Stevens, Monroe; Michael Stapleton, Towanda; Everell O. Ctorrs, Granville; Omera Shepard, Granville; Alvin Thomas, Troy; Emerson W. Vought, Sheshequin; Chas. Vann, Sheshequin; Frank Williams, Sayre; DeWitt C. Wattles, Rome.

CAN'T GET AWAY FROM GUY HOLLON.

Bradford Constable Wating at Owego for Freed Prisoner.

Constable Guy C. Hollon returned on Aug. 16 from Owego, bringing with him Dominick Earle, who has been in the Tioga county jail serving a term on a sentence imposed by Justice C. O. Hoagland of Waverly. When Earle was arrested at Waverly, some weeks ago, the Towanda authorities notified the Tioga county, N. Y., authorities that Earle was one of two men wanted here for the burglary of a small store in North Towanda. The other man wanted is a police character named Shaw, of Waverly.

Requisition papers were applied for and upon the arrival of these here, Detective Hollon had only to await the expiration of Earile's New York state sentence. This came that day. Earle will now be tried here on the charge of burglary, preferred by the proprietor of the little North Towanda store, who is an Italian. Dominick Earle is an Irishman.

BIBLE STUDENTS NUMEROUS.

Many Become Enthusiastic Members of Mr. Dye's Class—for a Day.

Several hundred people from this section took advantage of the excursion to Laquin run Tuesday under the auspices of the A. D. Dye Bible Class of the Methodist church. An idea of the extent to which the project was patronized may be gained from the number of tickets sold at the different stations. From the upper Towanda station, 43; from the S. & N. Y. office, 235; from Monroeton, 65; from Powell, 26; and this did not include a number who went and did not purchase excursion tickets. Eight coaches comprised the special train.

The Bible students and their friends returned at an early hour last evening after a delightful day in the woods of the famous lumber camp.

SURVEY BEGUN FOR A MONSTER ROAD MAP.

State Highway Department Will Publish a Chart Showing All Roads.

A corps of engineers from the office of Ruddach & McCracken of Jenkintown, have begun surveys of the principal roads of Montgobery county as a part of the work preliminary to the publishing of a road map of Pennsylvania.

Similar work is being done throughout other parts of the state under the supervision of Joseph W. Hunter, commissioner of the depatment of highways. According to a statement from one of the engineers with the corps, the map will be a monster.

It will present a continuous showing of every highway in Pennsylvania each of which is to be surveyed. In cities and boroughs surveys will be mads only of such streets as lead into country roads. For information as to other streets the highway department will rely on city and borough maps. The maps will be drawn to a scale of 1800 feet to the inch, almost three inches being required to show a mile of road, and it will there fore be something like 90 feet long. It is contemplated that copies of this map will be published in sectional form for binding.

Incident to preparations for the monster map, what purports to be an official road map of the state, authorized by the highway department, is being offered to the unsuspecting public. The fraud bobbed up when a salesman offered one of the alleged official maps to a man who is engaged in the surveys for the official map that is to come. The advance counterfeit is probably a print from very old plates.

YELLOW JOURNALISM.

What Frenzied City Editors Will Do To Force Country Circulation.

Those who went from here to the firemen's convention at Canton will be interested to read some one's idea what took place there. If the dispatches continue to grow they will have murder done at Canton. Here is a sample: "The anger of a crowd of men who had been fleeced out of their money by a man who was operating some kind of a game at the Five-County Firemen's convention at Canton, Bradford county, nearly resulted in the death of the gambler. The crowd rushed on him and strung him up from a telephone pole. The police succeeded in geting him down, but physicians were compelled to work over him for three hours before he could be resuscitated."

The Aldens Outing.

The eighth annual reunion of the descendants of John and Priscilla Alden in that vicinity, was held in Ross park at Binghamton on Friday. It was attended by about 135 members of the family from that city and the surrounding counties. The meeting for 1907 will be held in the same place during the third week in August.

SAYRE SEWER BIDS HIGH.

Big Hawk Shot in Monroe Township—South Towanda Boy on Battleship Pennsylvania—Prominent Troy People Will Be Married Next Week.

The Honesdale Business Men's association has 60 members.

Having sold his drug business in Wilkes-Barre, Andrew Stuart will reside in Troy.

A night blooming cereus blossomed at the home of Dr. C. K. Ladd on Monday evening.

The Sayre boro council has rejected all bids for the new town sewer. The lowest bid was $22,778.75, and only $20,000 was appropriated for the work.

James H. Maurer, a miner and Socialist candidate for governor, will speak at Laddsburgh on Aug. 24. Farmers and other workers are invited.

A stamp cancelling machine to be operated by electricity is to be placed in the Sayre postoffice, and a machine of that kind has already ben ordered for Waverly.

Fred W. Hellmun of South Towanda, is a member of the crew of the big battleship Pennsylvania, and will participate in the great naval parade planned for Labor day.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Ballard of Troy, have issued invitations for the wedding, Thursday evening, Aug. 30, at 8 o'clock, of their daughter, Katherine, to Hon. Willard Daniel Morse.

Robert Benjamin, a son of Solon Benjamin, shot a large nawk on Tuesday morning in Kent Run, Monroe township. The bird measured four feet from tip to tip, and was a beauty.

The old Pleasant Valley Academy at Lone Pine, where some of Washington county's best known people have been educated, is being torn away to make room for a dwelling house.

A very pleasant reception was held at the home of George Archer, on Wednesday evening, in honor of his cousin, Weston Archer of Orange, N. J., who returned to his home on Thursday.

Wysox was defeated by Monroeton on Saturday at base ball by the score of 15 to 2. The defeat was largely owing to the fact that the pitcher failed to show up and that the catcher broke his hand in the third inning.

Stephen Osborne, Norman White formerly of Towanda, and Robert Cummings, formerly of Liberty Corners, all of whom are now in the employ of the Western Electrical company, are spending their vacations with their parents.

When only small quantities of milk are handled, or the separator is not used, it is very essential to cool the milk in cold water before putting away for the cream to rise. The reason for this is that the bacteria in the milk multiply very rapidly unless the temperature of the milk is lowered quickly, and the milk is less apt to keep sweet as long as it would otherwise.

What is more unsightly than a garden where the remains of the lettuce, radishes, peas and beans and other early vegetables which have been consumed are left to grow up with weeds? The land should be thoroughly cleared of everything and sowed to turnips or some other early maturing crop. A good manager can work his land to his profit the same as his hired help and yet reduce neither to the point of exhaustion.

What is more pitiful than neglected old age? People don't change in a minute or an hour, and unless they are utterly helpless they are going to retain some of the ideas and ways of their more active days. Habit's chain is strong. An inspection of the different crop totals and averages covering a period of years forces the conviction that there must be a woeful amount of shoddy, shabby, slipshod farming to account for the amazingly low averages that are credited to the different crop products. It simply means that there is a big nigger in the agricultural woodpile, and it is with a view of getting him out that a large portion of the funds and efforts of the agricultural department is expended.

Among the worst kind of people that can come into a community are the migratory class or those that do not possess or have any desire to possess any regular employment. These people have nothing themselves, have nothing to give to the community and in the end carry away the little they may have earned to spend elsewhere. Their home life is a miserable makeshift, and the children are poorly clothed and fed. Their motto reads, "The easiest way is always the best way."

DOES IT PAY TO GRIND CORN?

During the past nine years Professor Henry of the Wisconsin experiment station has conducted a careful series of experiments with a view to determining the advantage of ground corn as a fattening ration over shelled corn. His findings, published in a recent bulletin, seem to prove quite conclusively that the advantage in grinding seems to depend, first, almost entirely upon the prevailing price of corn at the time the feeding is done and, secondly, upon the cost of grinding. He concludes his report with a table showing the saving from grinding the corn when it is worth 25 cents per bushel and at regular intervals up to 75 cents. He finds that when corn is worth 25 cents per bushel the saving by grinding is 1.4 cents per bushel; at 30 cents it is 1.7 cents; at 35 cents, 1.9 cents; at 40 cents, 2.2 cents; at 45 cents, 2.5 cents; at 50 cents, 2.8 cents; at 55 cents, 3.1 cents; at 60 cents, 3.4 cents; at 65 cents, 3.7 cents; at 70 cents, 3.9 cents, and at 75 cents, 4.2 cents. The feeder must take into account the prevailing cost of corn and grinding and determine in each case whether it is profitable to so handle it.

Fresh air, pure water and cleanliness constitute a sanitary trilogy whose importance and value can hardly be overestimated when viewed with reference to man, beast or fowl.

While a fellow might not have quite so large a bank account and cut quite so big a figure in an agricultural way, that system would give him the most real comfort and satisfaction which would restrict the number of acres he owned to that which he could handle comfortably himself with the aid of one hired man.

It is the consensus of opinion among those who know him well that the hog will be clean and keep clean if he is given half a chance. Barring his inclination to get into an oozy wallow on a hot summer day he shows more intelligence in the matter of personal cleanliness than does the horse, cow, sheep or hen.

A fact that is coming to be realized with considerable financial sorrow by stock speculators of the country is that our prosperity as a people is no longer dependent upon the whims of a gang of Wall street gamblers. A flurry on 'change is no longer accepted as conclusive evidence that the country is going straight to the demnition bowwows.

Buying at home has this advantage over purchasing from the catalogue house: In the one case you are a customer among a few hundred; in the latter, one of several hundred thousand. For this reason the home merchant is under the greater necessity and compulsion not only of promising, but giving you the greatest measure of satisfaction.

It is worth knowing that the pure food law has already begun to take effect to such an extent that the local merchants are required to state on printed slips accompanying every package sold the amount of beef suet which is utilized in the production of lard. They claim that the suet is necessary during the hot months to prevent the lard from melting and wasting.

The success of a system of tile drainage depends no less upon having the ground properly surveyed and the trench inspected before the tile is laid than upon the quality of tile used. In view of the fact that tiling well laid should be good for a lifetime, it would pay any one having any considerable amount of the work to do to hire an expert to see to it that this first part of the work mentioned is scientifically and properly done.

With a view to making the best of a bad bargain, the outgrowth of a batch of two-year-old onion seed, a friend of the writer last year set out half of an acre of onions to strawberries, giving them the best care he could consistent with the culture of half a stand of onions. Last fall he marketed $45 worth of onions from the half acre and this year sold $65 of strawberries from the bed thus planted. As the strawberry bed usually gives no return the first year, the plan followed proved a very satisfactory one.

If reports in the daily press are to be believed, there is a Plymouth Rock hen owned near Arcola, Ill., which should certainly be encouraged in her desire to have a family of her own. She wanted to sit in the hog shed at the time a litter of pigs was born, and, not being provided with eggs, she undertook the mothering of a couple of the little pigs, gathering one under each wing as night came on, an arrangement that seems to have proved mutually satisfactory. The state experiment station should provide this bird with a medal.

There is no plan that has yet been suggested looking to an arousing of interest in a tree planting campaign that would seem to be so simple and yet have so much to commend it as the withdrawal from taxation of all lands devoted to timber culture. Persuade the ordinary man that he will be immediately benefited in a remission of taxes and he will sit up and take notice more than he would if promised $1,000 per acre for his land at the end of twenty years. The proposition is one that legislators in every state should look into and act upon.

All too many human lives bear a close analogy to the neglected field, which, though possessing an innate capacity to produce a wholesome, useful crop, through neglect is producing nothing but weeds, exhausting its own fertility and proving a source of contamination to land adjoining. In both cases the cost of reclamation is fourfold more than that of keeping both life and land at its best. Restoration in either case comes through the sowing of good seed and careful cultivation.

TUBERCULOSIS IN THE DAIRY.

There is probably no disease in the whole category common to both man and beast which is today receiving more earnest or careful consideration than tuberculosis. At no time has there been a fuller realization of the possibility of infection from it or so general an interest in sensible methods for checking and preventing ravages by it. Among these methods the fresh air and sunshine treatment, or outdoor cure, is receiving especial attention. A tuberculosis specialist in the course of a paper read at a recent medical convention cited the case of several monkeys in the Lincoln park zoo at Chicago which were in the last stages of tuberculosis, but which were entirely cured by exposing them in their open cage to all kinds of weather during the winter months. So successful did the experiment prove that the same treatment will be used with all other apes and monkeys in the garden, whose average life in confinement has been but fourteen months. The case here cited is but a preliminary to the expression of a belief that a large percentage of tuberculosis cases among dairy cows is the direct result of the pernicious practice of keeping them closely confined during the winter months in badly lighted and poorly ventilated stables, every breath of clean, fresh air possible being kept out in order to prevent a lowering of the stable temperature. And where the cows are kept confined in the stable during the summer months, as is true with a number of silo dairies, the danger from a propagation and spreading of the disease would seem to be greatly increased. In this connection it would seem to be pertinent to cite experiments carried on by the Illinois experiment station during the past two or three winters, which proved conclusively that dairy cows that were left out all winter, but given a wholesome and nutritious ration and a clean, dry, open shed in which to sleep nights, and stabled only at milking time, not only came out healthier and stronger in the spring, but made a better milk and butter record than a like number of cows fed the same ration, but kept closely stabled during the entire period. It stands to reason that if tuberculosis is propagated in monkeys and men by lack of fresh air and sunshine the same thing would be true of the dairy cow. It may take some time for this fresh air and sunshine propaganda to gain a foothold among stock raisers and dairymen, but it is bound to come before long, willy nilly. The way to check tuberculosis in hogs is to give them clean, dry and well ventilated quarters and to quit feeding them milk from tuberculosis infected cows, and the way to stamp the plague out of the dairy is to dispose of those animals known to be infected and to provide those remaining with the same kind of quarters as suggested for the hogs, with a guarantee of fresh air and sunshine during every hour possible out of the twenty-four.

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES.

In view of the quite general demise of the old time agricultural society, a plan that is being followed in one Iowa county is worthy of mention. To begin with, the decadence of these societies seems to be due in part to the greatly increased interest in the state fairs, which offer superior exhibits along all lines, and in part to the fact that as ordinarily conducted the county fair is exploited primarily as a money making scheme, while benefit to be derived by those who attend along the line of becoming acquainted with better varieties of grasses, grain and stock as well as improved agricultural methods is held as entirely subsidiary. The plan proposed has in view the organization of an agricultural society in which the farmers of the county shall be the chief stockholders and whose purpose shall be the holding of corn contests and general agricultural exhibits, with either of which races or other amusements may be combined. It is a relatively small per cent of the farmers of any state who are able, or at least take pains, to attend the state fair; hence a county society organized along the lines suggested would seem fitted to fill a very definite and useful place. Combined with the county experiment work which is being undertaken in many localities, it would seem to have in it the possibility of developing into a sort of county agricultural experiment exhibit, possessing definite and practical value for the farmers of the county and forming a natural and helpful auxiliary of the state experiment work. The fact that representative farmers were stockholders would give them a personal interest in its success, lack of which has been at the bottom of the discontinuance of many of these once popular county exhibits.

There is no particular need of worrying about the poor farmer when a load of five 330 pound hogs will fetch him $100.

Twenty-eight cent wool, $6.80 hogs, forty-five cent corn and eleven cent cotton mark the flood tide of an exceptional era of agricultural prosperity.

Last year 59,100,000 acres of land in the United States were devoted to the raising of hay. The yield from this area was 60,531,617 tons, valued at $516,000,000. There was a variation in price from $16 per ton in Rhode Island to $4 per ton in South Dakota.

NEAR TO WAR WITH CHILE.

Killing of American Sailors Almost Caused a Diplomatic Rupture.

In October, 1891, an incident occurred at Valparaiso which for a time promised to have very serious consequences. Some of the populace assaulted boats' crews of the United States cruiser Baltimore, killing two of the American sailors. The government of the United States investigated the matter and immediately demanded reparation, which was promised by the Chilean government, after the receipt of the report of the local authorities at Valparaiso, should the latter determine that the sailors were not to blame. Much angry correspondence ensued and this was made particularly offensive on the Chilean side by an insulting circular which Senor Matta, the Chilean foreign minister, issued Dec. 13, and which he caused to be published in the Chilean newspapers.

An attempt was made later to set up the claim that it was a domestic communication, which could not be the subject of diplomatic complaint. James G. Blaine, who was then secretary of state, declined to accept the view advanced by the Chilean government that a nation is to take no notice of an insult not directly communicated and refused to receive as a sufficient apology a statement that the Chilean government would strike out the offensive words. Eventually President Harrison sent a message to congress Jan. 25, 1892, reviewing the difficulty, during which he said, "The communications of the Chilean government have not at any time taken the form of a manly and satisfactory expression of regret, much less of an apology."

Later, however, there was a change in the foreign ministry of Chile and the policy of the government of that country toward the United States was modified, and the sincere regret of Chile at the "unfortunate events which occurred at Valparaiso on the 16th of October, 1891," was expressed, and it was added that the government of Chile "sincerely deplored the unfortunate disturbance." The offensive passages in the Matta circular were also withdrawn and the war clouds passed away, but not before American naval vessels had been hurriedly made ready for service in the Pacific.

KING AND KAISER PART.

Have Final Talk on Train Before They Say Au Revoir.

Cronberg, Prussia, Aug. 16.—King Edward has left Friedrichshof. Emperor William, Prince and Princess Frederick Charles of Hesse-Nassau and the Crown Princess Sophia of Greece accompanied his majesty to the Cronberg railroad station. The leave taking of their majesties was particularly cordial; both kissing each other on the cheeks. The emperor accompanied the king to his compartment, where they engaged in conversation till the train was ready to move.

King Edward proceeded to Marienbad, accompanied by Sir Frederick Lascelles, the British ambassador to Germany, and the emperor returned to Friedrichshof.

The monarchs as the train pulled out of the station called out "Au revoir!"

It seems that trial by jury, although it has in the past endured the test and proved one of the bulwarks of popular liberty, is itself on trial in the United States.

At the present rate of defalcation, we shall soon have a state of affairs like that of Mark Twain's over-officered ship; we shall not be able to throw a stone without hitting one of the bank-wrecking gentry.

An eel wiggled out of a faucet in Philadelphia the other day and was placed in a bucket of Schuylkill water. In a few minutes it rose to the surface and died. Quaker citizens seem to think this is a good joke on their supply of drinking water.

The proposed new air line railroad which has been mapped out from New York to Pittsburg, is attracting a good deal of attention. Some hard-headed persons regard it as a sort of midsummer night's dream, while others cynically refer to it as a "hot air" line. The proof of the promise will be in the performance.

The extent of the factional feeling among New York state Republicans is well illustrated in a vote taken at a meeting of members of the state committee in New York. In a test of strength on a comparatively unimportant point, Governor Higgins won against Boss Odell, 19 to 18. The point was not decided, but tabled.

Aunt Sally Doremus of Whippany, N. J., celebrated her 103rd birthday on Monday. She was surrounded by her two children, ten grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. She is hale and hearty at her great age, and reads the finest print easily without spectacles. The celebration occurred under a black walnut tree planted by Mrs. Doremus's father 130 years ago.

In Germany they have produced parlors to elect officers. The officers buy newspaper space by the quarter-cigars free from nicotine. The American consulate notes, however, that the demand for big, black, strong cigars continues unabated. With denatured alcohol and anti-nicotine tobacco, the German youth should not be hurt much by contracting bad habits.

William T .Coffey, for 37 years a policeman in New York, connected with the West Twentieth street station, has just retired, and in an address to the officers who remained on the force, he said that during his long experience he had never seen a case of graft. Grafters of every description know whom to approach. If a man is positively honest he will never be approached. That Officer Coffey has spent 37 years upon the force and never been tempted with a bribe is not proof that bribes have not been shaken under the noses of officers who were not fishing for them.

Antiseptic barber shops, pharmacies, and patent medicine manufacturers throughout the United States will be compelled to cease using the red cross as a trade mark if the convention agreed upon at the recent Red Cross conference in Geneva is lived up to by the United States. This convention provides that each of the signatory countries shall do all in its power to bring about legislation preventing the use of the Red Cross insignia for any sort of commercial purpose. Congress last year passed a law prohibiting tht use of the insignia, but it has not been enforced. Nearly all other countries have safeguarded the insignia of the Red Cross very carefully.

NEXT CONGRESS REPUBLICAN.

Speaker Cannon's address in his own town, Danville, Ill., is a strong and appropriate opening of the Republican campaign. In its national aspect the only election this year is that of Congressmen. The State elections are coming more and more to be regarded as purely local affairs and of local significance only, except the choice of members of the Legislature which have a United States senator to elect. Speaker Cannon in his own person represents the Republican majority in Congress, and with great propriety he assumed the initial task of showing why the Republican majority in the Fifty-ninth Congress should be succeeded by a Republican majority in the Sixtieth Congress, to be chosen this November.

The enthusiasm and loyalty of speaker Cannon's constituents prompted them to improve the occasion of his renomination to Congress to present his name for the Republican presidential nomination in 1908. This is altogether to their credit, but Mr. Speaker very sensibly put it aside as premature. Another Congress has to be chosen and another Congressional record has to be made before the time will be ripe for the selection of the man to head the Republican ticket in 1908. The vital question this year is, "shall the control of Congress remain in the same hands that have directed it so wisely and efficiently since 1895?" Mr. Cannon has been one of the directing minds in the House of Representatives during all this time, and during the later years its Speaker. He is therefore the very man to put the question, "Shall the Republican control of Congress be continued?"

The prosperity of the country was never greater. The adversity and depression that characterized Mr. Cleveland's second administration disappeared with the election of William McKinley and a Republican Congress in 1896. The proud title of "advance agent of prosperity" given to Candidate McKinley and an unbroken series of Republican successes has been attended with the maintenance and steady increase of that prosperity ever since. Why should a country so blessed desire a change? We see no evidence anywhere of such a desire except among those light-minded spirits who crave change for the sake of change, regardless of consequences.

We do not believe that the destinies of the country will be controlled this year by such people. "Let well enough alone" is the common sense principle which those with whom Lincoln called "the plain people" are disposed to accept as a sound rule of conduct. The growth of this country in wealth and business, the great and widely dispersed prosperity show that the country is suffering no injury from Republican rule.

It is demonstrable that a large part of this prosperity is directly due to the sucessful working out of Republican policies. A Republican Congress chosen next Fall will continue these policies. Why should not the country wish them to continue since under them it fares so well? These are matters well and widely known, and Speaker Cannon's speech merely gives a quickening sense and an exact demonstration of knowledge so familiar and indisputable that it is in some danger of being disregarded for these very reasons.—Philadelphia Press.

PENSIONS FOR TEACHERS.

Teachers of the state of Pennsylvania are making an effort to secure the adoption of a teachers' retirement fund at the next session of the state legislature. representatives met in Altoona during the session of the State Teachers' association and after a careful discussion of the question, presented the following resolutions to the State Teachers' assaciation, which were uanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That we approve the creation of a teachers' retirement fund and the administration of the same in a manner to be determined by the proper authorities; and that we endorse the call for a meeting of delegates from all interested districts, to be held in the Commonwealth hotel, Harrisburg, Pa., October 12, 1906.

"Resolved, That we aprove the efforts now being made to secure a permanent tenure of office for teachers; and give it as the sense of this association that every reasonable local effort which may be put forth to that end should be encouraged and that specific state action tending to that end should be inaugurated."

At the teachers' state convention the teachers were very enthusiastic on the subject. A committee was appointed to labor with the next legislature and see if they could not secure some legislation in that line.

Although pensioning of teachers is comparatively new in this country, it has been in vogue for many years in nearly all of the European countries.

The FirstNational Bank of Chelsea, Massachusetts, has been broken by much the same process as was the Milwaukee Avenue Bank in Chicago, though the moral quality of the presidents' acts are not identical. The president of the bank in Chelsea committed no forgeries and he has not mixed up with horses and women. But real estate speculations are nearly as fatal to banks, because they cannot be quickly realized on. The president borrowed more from the bank than he had any right to, and he used the money in real estate operations, from which the money may eventually be recovered. Excessive loans to the officers and operations in real estate are generally ruinous to a bank, and when combined they rarely fail.

All the News while it is News.

WASTEFUL AMERICANS.

Americans are the opposites of the Japanese in that they are probably the most wasteful and extravagant people under the sun. James J. Hill once voiced a declaration to the effect that the greater part of America's progress had been gained by using up the stored capital of preceding ages—something for which we are indebted to nature, not to our own energies. Soil, mines, oil and gas reservoirs, forests, fisheries—all have been drained and drained, with little or no thought that exhaustion of either was calculable. We eat three times as much as is demanded by nature and more than is good for us, and we throw away annually enough to feed the whole population of Japan. Into our rivers in the form of polluting sewage go fertilizers to the value of millions, which other peoples save and which we would be doubly benefited by saving. We could economize greatly if we cared to in the quantity of iron and other metals we use, but, possessed with the infatuation that they will never "run out," we are as prodigal with them as with everything else, whereas the limit of the supply is claimed to be easily calculable.

But it is in the waste of the forests that American improvidence finds its worst illustration. The nation has been willing to see its forests so devastated that the present annual "cut" and fire waste cannot be continued for 25 years longer without destroying every patch of timber in America.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

THE REVOLVER.

Daniel B. Wesson, the noted inventor and manufacturer of revolvers, died at Springfield, Mass., a few days ago, leaving a fortune of $30,000,000—though like the majority of wealthy men was taxed for less than $1,000,000. This sum may be regarded as the measure of the value of which America attaches to the revolver, for it is in this country that the particular brand of pistol is most widely used. It is an enormous sum to stand for the success of a single death-dealing weapon—a homicidal luxury.

The revolver is the anarch among weapons. The first impulse of anger finds it ready to hand. It defeats the restraining second thought. It causes our homicide statistics to swell far beyond those of any other people. Americans are the greatest pistol-toting people in the world. And they don't tote pistols for nothing. The theory that a revolver in the hip pocket prevents trouble is clearly disproved by the fact that in those sections of the country and among those classes of people where the revolver is most commonly carried the homicide records are the heaviest.

Thirty millions of dollars is a tremendous price for people of this country to have paid a man for an instrument of death and disorder. But the crime statistics show that this is the smallest part of the price.—Scranton Times.

LIVING AND WAGES.

The Department of commerce and labor issued a bulletin on Monday carrying a statement that the cost of living in the United States has increased 42.54 per cent. since 1896. The price of labor has also increased and, as alleged, in the same proportion as the cost of livng. That certainly shows a favorable condition for the farmers.

If merchants pay out as much for the increased cost of living as the increase in their salary amounts to, they are not a great deal ahead, and persons of small income, whether it is from their wages or from their interest, are considerably worse for the increase in the price of necessities.

The country is booming. It is booming in manufacturing and in business of every description. Times are comparatively easy for working people. But what is important is to know whether we are having a real boom, profitable to everybody, or whether the prosperity is apparent only and profitable to only a few. What this great country should be looking after is "the greatest good to the greatest number," and as easy circumstances as is possible for everybody.

PUBLICITY PLUNGES.

There are people who believe that advertising doesn't pay, just as there are people who still believe that the earth is flat. An advertising solicitor said of this kind of folk the other day that it is the next to the hardest thing in the world to induce them to give publicity a trial. The hardest thing, he said, is to hold them in check after they have been converted by the success of an experimental "ad." The invariable tendency of the skeptic when once convinced of his initial mistake is to overdo his publicity, on the principle that there cannot be too much of a good thing. Seasoned advertisers forge steadily ahead by maintaining the proper proportion between the volume of their business and the size of their "ads." But the plungers are far less numerous than that other class of business men who mistakenly imagine that they cannot afford to advertise at all because they have not the means to buy newspaper space by the quarter page.—Philadelphia Record.

If anything could produce political nausea it would be Congressman Fassett's Elmira Advertiser howling about committees and conventions being run by political officeholders.—Owego Record.

Philadelphia has become so highly virtuous that the police there arrested a man on Saturday for kissing his wife on the street.—Wilkes-Barre Record.

ANENT THE CHIPMUNK.

The wild excitement into which the Pennsylvania newspapers have been thrown for the last fortnight bids fair, through the kind offices of this paper, to come to an end; the mighty matter of whether a chipmunk can climb a tree is about to be solved. Then, left undisturbed by the waggish Philadelphia editor who delights to flatter and torment his country brethern, we may again become absorbed in the corn crop, in peanut politics, in church quarrels, family affairs, reunions, and the other destinies over which a well regulated country paper is privileged to preside.

Over in New York they used to have a maxim "If you can see it in the Sun it's so;" and "so" it is that we refer Pennsylvania editors, natural historians, and other friends of the pretty rodent, to the following:

To the Editor of the Sun: I have tramped the woods for forty years, never saw a chipmunk climb a tree and have been much interested in the recent letters in The Sun on this subject. I am now able to say positively that these little animals can climb a tree. A week ago it became necessary to dig a deep pit at our country home. It was 20 feet deep and 10 feet square at the top. The other day the children were pained to see that two chipmunks had fallen in. How to get them out was a puzzle. Finally one of the boys dragged from the forest a large and long limb of a tree and this was lowered into the hole. The next time the children went around to look the chipmunks were gone. Doesen't this settle the question? These little animals may not often climb a tree, but they certainly can when they want to. Observer'

But, in reserve, we have another question along he same lines that needs an early answer, and when the present furore subsides, this shall be duly brought forth.

THE HARD WORKING HEN.

"The poultry products put about $15,000,000 annually into the pockets of Pennsylvania farmers; but when it is known that the state of Pennsylvania consumes five times as much poultry and eggs as it produces, it becomes necessary for us to devote some time and thought to poultry conditions and prospects in our Commonwealth."

The above is the opening announcement in a bulletin just issued by the State department of Agriculture with a view to stimulating interest in the poultry business in Pennsylvania. Ths document, prepared by T. E. Orr, of Beaver, shows that many millions of dollars might be added to the revenues of the farmers of this state through the production of eggs and poultry.

Six states West of Pennsylvania surpass it in the products of the hen, Ohio and Iowa leading with $20,000,000 worth each. Yet Pennsylvania has more individual land owners than ether of these states, almost every plot being capable of yarding and feeding a few hens.

BOUNTIFUL HARVESTS.

Some years ago when Kansas had a couple of seasons of drouth and crops failed, the farmers were greatly discouraged, but the state has been blessed by one big crop after the other since that time, until it is asserted the people of the "Sunflower state" have deposited in banks nearly $100 for every inhabitant. And now comes the cheering news, that the crop report issued by the agricultural department today, shows the state's yield of Winter wheat to be more than 91,000,000 and the Spring wheat will swell the total to over 100,000,000 bushels, breaking all records. The growing corn promises a crop of 200,000,000 bushels.

And the best of it is that Kansas is not the only staote making such a showing. The crops in general throughout the great West are above the average, and while early frost may do damage, the outlook is for a banner crop record, which spells prosperity for the nation for at least another twelve month.

A FORTUNATE FIRE.

To the stranger within our gates, it is sometimes apparent that there are some desirable things which Towanda does not possess. An actice, energetic and well equipped fire department, however, has a place among Towanda's assets, and if proof were required, Tuesday's fire may furnish it. The blaze, without doubt, was a fortunate one; but the good, fast work was none the less admirable. And despite the fact that the pressure at the local reservoir is unusually low, no trouble was experienced by the firemen from lack of water.

When inclined to speak of "dead Towanda" stop and think a moment of her live fire department.

Forty odd warships will soon pass in review before the President at Oyster Bay. The usual manner of passing in review will be reversed, and the President will do the passing. The warships iwll be anchored in the Sound, and the President in the Mayflower will sail around them and between them, and do whatever else is necessary to see them and be seen by them. That may be because the waters of the Sound today are shallow and small, and if the warships stirred about much there might be danger of collision and grounding. The President would not want to be responsible for any serious accident. —Binghamton Republican.

The frequency of earthquakes, of late would idicate that the phrase terra firma is no longer applicable to this old earth of ours.

FOR BETTER FAIRS.

The announcement from Harrisburg that the state department of agruculture intends to take steps to eliminate gambling schemes from every county fair this Fall is encouraging. The public has a right to be protected against the hordes of land sharks that go from fair to fair to ply their miserable trade of fleecing the credulous and unthinking. Their presence upon the fair grounds almanagement and the agricultural department will do avaluable service if the really go at hunting down and exposing these nefarious games in earnest, and seeing that the various fair associations observe the law in excluding them from their premises.

Professor Triggs, the Chicago University professsor who now writes advertisements as a side-line, declares that the "ad" writer must be a true artist in the sense that he must be thoroughly interested in the things he exploits and must be skillful enough to get other people to think about them as he does. He says that an advertisement ought to be as much inspired as a poem. Art and inspiration are excellent qualities in publicity. "Ads" built according to the Triggs specifications need only one more element to make them successful—wide circulation.

Recently a crowd of Chicago gamblers was raided on the charge of fleecing their victims. A few days ago Harriman and his gang made millions by stock market gambling. There's a difference but it needs a magnifying glass to see how one crime is greater than the other.

BOOM SPEAKER CANNON.

The Illinois Republicans Want Him For President.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 21.—When the Republican state convention met to name candidates for treasurer of state, superintendent of public instruction and three trustees for the state university Speaker J. G. Cannon received an emphatic indorsement as the Republican presidential candidate for 1908 and Shelby M. Cullom was indorsed for re-election to the United States senate.

Besides indorsing Speaker Cannon for the presidency and Senator Cullom for re-election, the resolutions gave President Roosevelt's administration a strong indorsement and warmly praised the administration of Governor Deneen and the services of the Illinois congressional delegation.

The resolutions indorse Speaker Cannon for the presidency of the United States in these words:

"Mindful of the great responsibilities of the office of president of the United States, hoping for a continuation of the successful policies and wise administration of the Republican party, with full confidence in the experience, ability, mental equipment and lofty patriotism of Hon. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois for the discharge of these duties and great responsibilities, Illinois most strongly favors and recommends to her sister states and to the national Republican convention, to be held in 1908, the nomination of Hon. Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois to the high office of president of the United States."

FIERCE BATTLE WITH LION.

Trainer Fights Desperately With Beast That Had Escaped.

New York, Aug. 21.—In a space 3 by 5 feet, with hardly room to turn in, Captain Ricardo, a trainer, matched wit and strength with Dewey, one of Colonel Mundy's large lions, at Luna park. The lion had escaped from the passageway back of its den, and was driven into close quarters. After a fifteen minute fight, with only a chair for protection, the trainer conquered the beast.

Had the lion succeeded in getting away his recapture would have been difficult, as he would have headed for the marshes with a good running start of his pursuers.

Planett Company Bankrupt.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 16.—A petition asking that the Planett Manufacturing company of this city, manufacturers of picture frame and room molding, be declared bankrupt, was filed in the federal court here by the American National bank of Pensacola, Fla.; the Union Bank and Trust company, Montgomery, Ala., and the First National bank, Evergreen, Ala. It is estimated that the assets of the company are $175,000; liabilities $225,000. Failures of the Bank of America, Chicago, and the Creelman Lumber company are connected with the financial troubles of the Planett company.

Demand for Young Men.

Calls for young men who have graduated in the present course for teachers at the Bloomsburg, Pa., State Normal school, have exceeded the supply. Positions paying $650 to $750 per year are going begging. We advise young men to get in touch with this school by writing for a catalog. In addition to courses for teachers, courses in music, business courses, and college preparatory courses, including an excellent medical preparatory course, are also maintained. Send for a catalog.

Mrs. H. W. Swingle and Miss Katherine Lynch are at Mildred, attending the marriage of their cousin, Miss Agnes E. Boland and James Coleman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coon and family of Plainfield, N. J., and Mrs. William Thornton of New York, are guests at the home of G. B. Archer at Wysox.

John Bohlayer was in Towanda on Tuesday on his way to his home at Luthers Mills from Minneapolis, where he attended the national encampment of the G. A. R.

Mrs. E. E. Maynard, who has been visiting her brother, W. H. Elliott, has returned to her home at Hawarden, Iowa, accompanied by her nephew, Edward Elliott, who will spend some time there.

FEED MILL AT SOUTH WAVERLY.

New Valley Enterprise Getting Rapidly Into Shape.

The Sayre-Athens Milling company has just completed its new plant at Sayre, and is now ready for active operation. It has a producing capacity of eight carloads per day, and room for storing 40 carloads. When in full operation the mill will employ about 18 men. Flour will not be gorund at the present time, but feed for horses and cattle will be produced. As it not the intention of the owners to compete in the local trade, they will do only a shipping business. The mill is built of concrete throughout and is practically fireproof. Among the equipment there is a 100 horse power gas engine, a cutter which prepares the product at the rate of 3½ tons per hour, and a system of elevators and carriers that make it possible to handle the grain and product at a minimum of labor. The plant is located immediately East of Waverly, near the Erie, Lehigh and Lackawanna railroads, which are to build spurs to the mill doors. The enterprise which is in charge of C. F. Dyer, is backed by Philadelphia capital, and is part of a big milling combine.

POLICE MADE FIVE ARRESTS.

In Night Raid in Mason Alley, the Officers Catch Bad Characters.

In a raid made by Chief Miller and two of his men late Friday night, five arrests were made and the offenders brought before the burgess on Saturday morning. Fines to the amount of $18 were imposed. Late Friday night William Ackley, who lives in a house in Mason Alley, came up town and complained to the police that several men and women were at his house, creating a great disturbance. When the officers arrived they found a most disorderly state of affairs and placed under arrest Lyman Heeman, Jr., and a stranger who gave the name of Alfred Brink. Another man taken was allowed to go. Of the women one was Sophia Whitmiller, the woman who was said to have been with Mary Shaylor at the time she was burned to death in the Ackley house in Towanda township. Burgess Foyle fined the men $4 and costs each, and the women $5 and costs each.

Ackley Case Adjourned.

The Benjamin Ackley "Fish case" occupied the attention of Justice Orcutt and Attorneys Wilson and Stephen Smith Wednesday afternoon, while a crowd of interested spectators and others looked on. Ackley is the man arrested on Tuesday by Fish Warden Shoemaker, who charges that he saw the defendant take a yellow bass and an eel from a rack in the river below town. Warden W. E. Shoemaker was the first witness sworn, and in reply to Attorney Wilson's questions, he told the story of what he saw Ackley doing when he arrested him. Special Fish Warden Perley Nichols of Milan, was called and gave corroborative testimony. He was with Shoemaker when Ackley was arrested.

The entire afternoon was consumed in hearing this evidence which was taken down on the typewriter by Stenographer Lester Pierce of Lilley & Wilson's office. Justice Orcutt adjourned the court until Friday morning at 10 o'clock when the arguments in the case will be made by Attorneys Wilson and Smith.

Earle Awaiting Trial.

Dominick Earle, the man brought by Constable Hollon from Owego, at the expiration of his sentence, proposes to plead not guilty to the charge of burglary of the North Towanda store. In the county jail here, he told a plausible story of the events leading up to his arrest at Waverly, but it is expected that the commonwealth will, should the case come to a trial have plenty of evidence of a most damaging sort.

Another Wyalusing Store.

D. W. Camp, an experienced jewelryman who, for several years past has conducted a store at Laceyville, has moved to Wyalusing, where he has opened up for business in the Lewis block next door to the First national bank.

Odd Fellows Outing.

Four hundred Odd Fellows of Tioga county, N. Y., enjoyed their annual outing at Lockwood on Saturday last. Ball games, a big dinner, speeches, renewal of acquaintance all contributed to the general good time.

Lawn Social at Black.

Tuesday evening, Aug. 28, there will be a lawn social at the home of Horton Shores. Ice cream and cake will be served. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Wealthy Man Murdered.

Pittsburg, Aug. 21.—Louis Pfromme, a well known resident of Allegheny, was found dead near his home on Melrose avenue. It is believed that he was murdered, as there was a stab wound on the head and his face was bruised and cut. It is supposed his assailant attacked him for the purpose of robbery, but was frightened away before securing anything. Leo McDonald, a machinist living near where Pfromme's body was found, is under arrest in connection with the case.

Tunis Reports Terrific Storm.

Tunis, Aug. 21.—A most violent cyclone swept over this district. It was accompanied by a terrific hailstorm and lightning which killed eight farmers and hundreds of head of cattle. Landslides, resulting from the storm, have virtually destroyed the railroad and have broken down the telegraph lines.

OPERA HOUSE BLOCK BLAZE THREATENED BUILDING.

Quick Work By the Firemen Quelled the Blaze Gas May Have Started.

Fire which was discovered at 9:15 o'clock yesterday morning threatened for a time the destruction of the Hale's Opera House block, and only the prompt, accurate and efficient work of the fire department saved a bad blaze.

The fire is claimed by some residents of South Main street to have started with an explosion, but the exact cause could not be discovered. As the fire started in a small closet on the second floor under the gallery in which was located the gas meter, the supposition is that spontaneous combustion ignited escaping gas. Janitor E. W. Kinsley of the Hale block, declared that he turned the gas off at the meter last Saturday night after the final performance of the Bennett-Moulton company; no one, so far as Kinsley knew, had been in the little room since.

When the firemen arrived with the apparatus a thick column of smoke isued from a second story window over Walsh's bakery. Ladders were at once raised and hose taken into the building both by way of the entrance and the windows. The fire was confined to the one room and was quickly put out. The Franklin Steamer was taken to the corner of Washington street to use in an emergency, but it was not fired up.

Firemen Hurt.

Two streams directed upon the blaze did business in a few minutes, and it was seen the fire would be a small one. Meyer Fairchild, foreman of the Naiads, while standing at the top of a ladder holding the nozzle alone, was overpowered by the force and weight of the stream. He fell to the pavement below. His escape from serious if not fatal injuries was almost miraculous. He sustained several cuts and contusions about the head and face. Dr. C. S. Means attended his injuries and took him to his home.

Harry E. Post of the Review force, and a member of the Naiads was also slightly cut; several other minor accidents were reported.

The Damage Slight.

The estimated loss is placed at a low figure. Thomas Walsh, who conducts a bakery in the block, had not placed a figure on the water damage done his stock last evening. A bad scorching to the small front room of the block covers other damage, on which insurance was carried.

People in the Building.

Some excitement was occasioned by a report that Prof. M. L. Cronk of the Towanda Business College and a pupil were cut off by the smoke, but they escaped without inconvenience.

HIGH SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS.

New Floors and New Walks Being Laid at a Cost of $500.

Preparatory to opening the schools on Sept. 3, new floors and new walks are being laid in the Second ward or High school building. The new floors, which are of inch oak of a fine quality, are being laid in the High school and in the sixth grade rooms. They are being carefully levelled, so as to remove all unevenness of the old floors. After they have been laid they will be gone over with some kind of a dressing so as to prevent ink and all kinds of dirt from striking into the wood and permanently soiling the floor.

Besides this the High school room will be partially repainted. There will new flag stones laid in the entrances to the building, and the stones from the old walk will be used to widen the walk at each side of the entrance. These improvements will be made at a cost of about $500.

Fireman Killed.

While William Diehr, a fireman on the Pennsylvania railroad, was attempting to board his engine as it was moving out of Jersey Shore he was thrown heavily to the ground, sustaining injuries from which he died at the Williamsport hospital Thursday. The man was not on his train when it started out, and when he tried to board it the train was pulling out quite rapidly. Losing his foothold he was hurled to the ground on his head, and severe wounds were inflicted. Other internal injuries resulted from the fall and the complication proved fatal.

Always Improving.

The Lehigh Valley railroad has recently ordered the following new equipment and rail: 1,000 coal cars of 100,000 lbs. capacity; 500 gondolas of 80,000 lbs. capacity; 100 cinder cars of 60,000 lbs. capacity; 102 produce cars of 60,000 lbs. capacity; 25 automobile cars; 5 Atlantic type passenger locomotives; 20 express and baggage cars; one dining car; 14,700 tons steel rail.

Snake Bite Fatal.

Grant Doll, of Mehoopany, died in two hours after being bitten by a rattle-snake. He was picking berries, when he stepped on the reptile, which struck at him and bit him on the leg. He was quickly carried to the office of a physician, who was unable to relieve him. Doll died in great agony. —Pittston Gazette.

Owego Anniversary.

Owego will celebrate the fifty-third anniversary of her fire department on Wednesday, Aug. 29. The R. A. Packer band of Sayre will take part, giving a concert in the evening. Two ball games between Newark Valley and Owego teams will be played.

P., B. & E. COAL.

New Line Expects Big Slice of Soft Coal Tonnage.

While it has been understood all along that a principal reason for the construction of the Pittsburg, Binghamton & Eastern railroad was to furninsh an outlet for coal mines to be opened in the English Center field in Tioga county, there has been no intimation that the road would also carry coal mined in other points of the so called Central Pennsylvania coal field. It now appears upon the consolidation of sundry coal companies operating some 33 collieries, under the name of the Pennsylvania, Beech Creek & Eastern Coal company, that the P., B. & E. is to carry a considerable portion of the output of these mines. The new coal company is provided with ample funds, owns one thousand cars and a dock property in Jersey City. It also owns the coal in 106,000 acres of land and it is proposed to open new mines as well as to increase the output of those now in operation.

The natural increase in the consumption of bituminus coal, the output has doubled every ten years since 1860, and the markets thrown open by the construction of the Pittsburg, Binghamton & Eastern railroad are assigned as reasons for this course.

The plans of the officials now center in an effort to connect Canton and Towanda as soon as possible and then to construct a spur line of 20 miles direct into the heart of the soft coal region in Lycoming county.. From this section 28,000,000 tons of soft coal are shipped to the Eastern states each year and the proposed lines of the P., B. and E. will be the natural and most direct route to Boston and the various Easter nmarkets.

FINE PROGRAM FOR W. C. T. U.

Bradford County Union Will Hold Annual Convention at New Albany.

The twenty-first annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at New Albany, Pa., Sept. and 7. One hundred delegates are expected, representing nearly a thousand white ribboners in Bradford county.

Mrs. E. Norine Law, of Detroit, Mich., the noted author, lecturer and vocalist, has been engaged as speaker for the occasion. She is endorsed by the press, which speaks in glowing terms of her oratory. The North American calles her "A Queen of Orator.", The New York Herald says: "Mrs. Law is perfect in form and feature; has a melodious and musical voice, and a perfect control of language." Muskegon News, Mich., says: "Mrs. Law is a woman of magnetic presence, a clear, forcible speaker and charming singer; she sways her audience at will, making them laugh or cry in turn, winning men and women to her great cause. We could quote columns of what the press says of her as a speaker.

Mrs. S. B. Norrish, the county president, is very busythese days in gettins the program arranged, including a gold medal oratorical contest which will be held on Friday evening, Sept. 7, to close the convention.

Mrs. Law will assist during the whole convention but will give her address on Thursday evening, Sept, 6, at the Baptist church.

OPPOSE SUSQUEHANNA DAM.

Attorney General Carson Preparing Injunction Aagainst McCall Co.

A bill of injunction against the McCall Ferry Power company, which has erected a big power dam across part of the Susquehanna river at McCall's Ferry is being prepared by Attorney General Hampton L. Carson.

This plan was decided upon by Mr. Carson when, with Fish Commissioner Meehan, he made a personal inspection of the work. The attorney general will not discuss the legal phrases of the case beyond the mere announcement that he will prepare the bill. The bill must be first filed in the common pleas court of Dauphin county. It is understood the company will retain eminent counsel and the case will no doubt be apealed by either side unti it is finally decided by the supreme court of Pennsylvania. The dam was built without special authority from the state.

The dam has been constructed by the company from the shore to one side of an island lying in the river, thus causing the channel on that side of the island to be drained for three-quarters of a mile. It is said to be one of the greatest pieces of engineering work of this kind in this country.

Wedding at Daggett.

At the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Swayze of Daggett, Rev. A. H. Youell and Miss Lela B. Swayze were united in marriage by Rev. Wm. H. Giles of Cazenovia, on Wednesday evening, Aug. 15. The bride is a charming and popular young lady, a resident of Daggett, and the groom is well known in these parts and is a member of the Central New York conference and is much esteemed by his brethern. A few near relatives were present at marriage, and after the ceremony the happy couple started on a short wedding trip. They bring with them to the Freetown charge, of which Mr. Youell is pastor, the best wishes of a large circle or friends.

Continuing a Fish Case.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Clarence Springer, one of the "fish cases" the court Monday granted a rule upon the defendant to show cause why an appeal should not be allowed. Lilley & Wilson represented the commonwealth and Attorneys Maynard, Maynard & Schrier the defendant.

BRADFORD COUNTY FAMILIES MEET IN ANNUAL REUNIONS.

This Delightful Custom is Growing in Popularity Every Year.

Reunions of families are always pleasant. There will always be an incomparable beauty in the gathering together of brothers and sisters and sons and daughters for the reuniting of family ties and affections. Reassociation of members of a family who have been scattered broadcast, over the big world of affairs, whose ways have been diverted by different tastes and different destinies, always affect good and are enjoyable.

Carr.

None were ever more pleasant and beautiful than the reunion of the Carr family, held at the Ezekiel Carr homestad, on Wednesday, Aug. 15.

Nature seemed in sympathy with the occasion for the weather was perfect. At 10 o'clock the relatives began to assemble and before noon nearly all the relatives, descendants of Ezekiel Carr, had gathered at the old homestead, the home of Mrs. Ella Carr McPherson. Many had not met for more than a score of years, and brothers and sisters, uncles and aunts and cousins proceeded to have a truly enjoyable time. Dinner was served at 1 o'clock, at the close of which the company were invited to the lawn where several pictures were taken of the whole assemblage and of generation groups. Speeches were made and a business meeting called, when it was decided that regular annual reunions would be held in the future, and always at the homestead farm. Officers chosen for the ensuing year were: President, James Carr, Sr.; vice-president, Ella Carr McPherson; secretary, Raymond W. McPherson. These officers were authorized to perform the duties of an executive committee. The time for the next meeting was indefinitely fixed at the most convenient time in August.

Chaapel.

The fifth annual reunion of the Chaapel family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eli McNett at Pembryn, Pa., Aug. 8. Nearly 70 being present. After a delicious dinner was served the company gathered in the parlors to elect officers. The officers were: President, John Rockwell; vice-president, Will Chaapel; secretarry, Lelia Henson; treasurer, Mrs. Hattie McNett; committee on arrangements, Chauncey Chaapel, A. C. Firemen's Standard Watches.

All the firemen in the employ of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company were notified to provide themselves with watches of standard make before Aug. 15, after which time they will be suspended until they procure such waches. The firemen do not take kindly to the new order, but rather than lose their jobs will purchase watches of the type demanded by the company. Several months ago the company issued orders to the effect that its telegraphers would be obliged to purchase watches of standard make. The operators who are the lowest paid employes in the service of the company refused to comply with the order and when it was evident to the company that the telegraphers would relinquish their positions rather than buy new watches the order was withdrawn.

The Dailey Hearing.

Judge Fanning fixed the date for a hearing in the case of the petitioners for the appointment of a guardian for Montrose J. Bailey, of Sayre Borough. The hearing will be held on Friday, Aug. 24, at 10 o'clock in the morning. The petitioner, Irving Dailey, a brother of the defendant, is represented by Attorneys Laws and Winlack, of Sayre.

Coming Over The Lehigh.

The Nebraska delegation, which is coming to New York to welcome the Hon. Wm. J. Bryan on his return from abroad, will travel over the Lehigh Valley by special train, leaving Niagara Falls, Sunday, August 26, arriving in New York the same evening.

McGILL IS CHOSEN.

Former Resident Gaining Ground in Wheeling, W. Va.

The Wheeling (W. Va.) Morning Register, of last Friday, had the following concerning a former Towandian, who has relatives here: M. L. McGill of Wellsburg, was named by the management of the Court Theatre Thursday to succeed Will E. Bowers, who tendered his resignation as treasurer Wednesday evening, to take a position in Detroit, Mich., as stated in the Register Thursday morning. Mr. McGill has had charge d'affaires of the Vandergrift farm for some time, and in that capacity was a very efficient and able official. He is well known in Wellsburg and has many friends in Wheeling who will gladly welcome him in his new position. Mr. McGill arrived Thursday and immediately took charge of his duties.

P., B. and E. Bridge Building.

During the past two weeks the Owego Bridge company has been awarded contracts for the iron work of the New York Central railroad station at Schenectady and for the new armory at Syracuse, and also the contract for six or seven heavy railroad bridges between 30 and 100 feet in length for the P., B. and E. These bridges will be erected between Powell and Canton. The Owego company is also figuring on two bridges over the Susquehanna river, one at Towanda and the other at Binghamton. The Owego company has received contracts for about 25 small highway bridges during the past week, besides figuring on considerable more large work. From the present outlook the plant will be kept running for several months to come. There are about 150 persons employed there now.

Great Grangers' Picnic.

The thirty-third Annual Great Grangers' Picnic Exhibition will be held in Williams' grove Aug. 27 to Sept. 1. This is undoubtedly the largest and finest display of farm machinery held in the United States. The beauty of the exhibit is that so much of it is running. MORE SHOCKS FELT Cause Alarm In Valparaiso, Lima and Other Cities.

QUILLOTA ALSO IS IN RUINS

One Thousand Bodies Have Been Buried In Valparaiso, Where Water Famine Is Now the Grave Danger. Dead Lie In Streets In Other Towns.

Lima, Peru, Aug. 21.—There was another heavy earthquake shock at Valparaiso.

According to the latest reports received here from the scene of the earthquake, the town of Quillota, situated about twenty-six miles from Valparaiso and having a population of some 10,000, has been destroyed.

At Lima there was a slight shock and Huacho was shaken by an earthquake.

Santiago Desperate.

Santiago, Chile, Aug. 21.—Another slight shock of earthquake was experienced.

The uncertainty as to what is occurring elsewhere in Chile and the almost complete desolation of Santiago, combined with the continued earth shocks, are terribly trying and render the people almost desperate.

The state of affairs existing in Valparaiso furnishes a serious outlook for Santiago, since many of the homeless people at the former place will undoubtedly make their way here, and there is not sufficient accommodation or food in this city for the destitute people of Santiago. The lighting and fuel question is also growing more serious here, since no coal can be brought to Santiago owing to the railroad being damaged north and south of this city.

Only now can the seriousness of the catastrophe begin to be appreciated. The greater part of the modern houses here are unsafe for habitation and the authorities have organized a special corps to pull down the tottering buildings. In most of the streets it is not safe to walk on the pavement owing to falling debris.

Santiago resembles a camp. The public squares and the principal avenues are crowded with people sleeping in the open. All kinds of carriages and carts have been requisitioned to sleep in, or even under them.

The night of Aug. 16 was rendered dreadful by flashing lightning and pouring rain, the electric cables and wires snapping as a result of the constant strong earth shocks which occurred all that night, causing the greatest consternation, which was heightened by the pealing of the fire bells announcing the breaking out of fires in various quarters of the city.

Terrible Scarcity of Water.

The governor says that the only illumination of Valparaiso at night is that furnished by the burning buildings. There is a terrible scarcity of drinking water there and difficulty is experienced in burying the bodies of the dead owing to the panic prevailing.

The authorities of Valparaiso also have to contend with serious difficulties in succoring the wounded, owing to the fact that all the drug stores apparently were destroyed and that some time elapsed before medical supplies from this city reached the stricken port.

The governor has informed the president that he has caused the construction of sheds on Brazil avenue in order to shelter the homeless families. He estimated that the quantity of provisions on the way to Valparaiso and the stock on hand there would be sufficient to last a month. The water supply, however, is very short, owing to the destruction of the waterworks. He calculated that two weeks must elapse before traffic would be restored in some of the streets.

Bodies In the Streets.

A dispatch received here from Limache says that a hundred bodies there remain unburied and that the authorities up to the present have only been able to bury 200.

The villages of San Francisco and Limache have been destroyed, including the hospitals, churches and all the public buildings.

The task of the authorities in the present situation became easier on account of the fact that telegraph and telephone communication was reestablished between Valparaiso and Santiago, enabling the governor of Valparaiso to consult at length with the authorities here. Nothing definite appears to be known regarding the number of people who lost their lives as a result of the earthquake and fires at Valparaiso. The authorities there only mention having taken sixty bodies from the ruins, though they add that the number of injured is very great.

One Thousand Already Buried.

People who have arrived here from Valparaiso, however, confirm the alarming reports of the extent of the catastrophe, saying that 1,000 bodies have already been buried, all persons caught committing robberies being shot on the spot.

The people arriving here estimate that 82 per cent of the buildings in the Terremote district have been destroyed by fire. All reports agree in saying that the Almendral and the southern districts of Valparaiso suffered the most severely.

According to some of the reports Valparaiso may be said to have been totally destroyed, it being asserted that nearly all the houses which remained standing have been so shaken that they must be pulled down. One of the travelers who arrived here says that more than 300 persons were killed in that part of Valparaiso known as the port, and that 800 persons were injured there. But it is impossible to verify his statement.

Two Thousand Dead.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 21.—The Nacion published a special dispatch from La Paz, Bolivia, announcing that 2,000 persons lost their lives as a result of the earthquake shocks and fires at Valparaiso; that 170 deaths from the same causes occurred at Limache, forty at Quillota, thirty-five at Conchali, eleven at Petarca, nine at La Placilla and six at La Calera.

A late dispatch from Santiago announces that the president of Chile, Senor Riesco, is proceeding to Valparaiso, accompanied by the ministers of the interior and of war, in order to supervise the relief work.

Cheered by Roosevelt's Messages.

President Roosevelt's messages of sympathy with the Chilean people were most gratefully received by the government and people, and messages of sincere thanks were cabled to Washington by the Chilean president.

Special telegrams from Santiago published announce the arrival there from Valparaiso of Charles Johnson Gana, a well known Chilean, after a terrible journey accomplished partly on foot and partly on horseback. He confirms the reports of the fearful destruction and incalculable loss of life at Valparaiso.

The Chilean ministry of the interior reports that the railroad from Tiltil to Batuco is working regularly, but that from Tiltil to Santiago the line is not working. At Colina, Batuco, Polipico and Tiltil the railroad stations, stores and dwellings have all been destroyed. The president of Chile has ordered the immediate construction of provisional buildings of wood and zinc in order to house the homeless. Military engineers are now repairing the railroads and telegraph lines.

The authorities at Valparaiso are organizing distributing centers where food and medicine will be served out to the earthquake sufferers. The latter are displaying exemplary patriotism and courage.

Many Convicts at Large.

Large parties of convicts, who escaped from the prisons in Chile, have been committing robberies and other crimes at Valparaiso, Casablanca and Vina del Mar, but the majority of them have been captured and summarily dealt with. Upward of fifty have been publicly shot, and this severe action upon the part of the authorities is exercising a salutary effect on the convicts who are still at large.

All the public bodies in Chile are cooperating in the relief work, and the sufferers from the disaster are engaged in repairing the damaged buildings and the telegraph and railway lines.

It is reported that the Chilean government will introduce a bill in congress providing for the emission of $80,000,000 in paper notes. The project also proposes a new national loan to enable the government to meet all emergencies.

At 2:20 a. m. Monday there were two further convulsions at short intervals at Santiago, but they did no damage.

Official and private correspondence arrived here from Valparaiso and other points north and south of that city.

Robinson Crusoe's Island Still There.

New York, Aug. 21.—There is no truth in the statement that a steamship has brought to Lima, Peru, a report that the earthquake wiped out the island of Juan Fernandez, which was made famous as the scene of the adventures of Robinson Crusoe. Juan Fernandez is 1,300 miles from Calleo, the port of Lima, and there is no steamship in those waters capable of covering the distance within the time required to bring such a report.

Injunction For Railway Company.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Attorney General Mayer will apply for a permanent injunction to restrain the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company from charging more than a five cent rate of fare between Brooklyn and Coney Island. This is the procedure agreed upon by the attorneys representing the railroad company and President Coler of the borough of Brooklyn. The attorney general acquiesces in the agreement.

War On the Persian Frontier.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 21.—Advices received here from the southwestern section of the Caucasus show that the fighting in the districts bordering on the Persian frontier has now assumed the dignity of a regular war, with daily engagements resulting in heavy losses both to the Tartars and to the Russian troops, who are the chief belligerents. The Armenians chiefly figure as victims.

Trouble Expected at Santo Domingo.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Santo Domingo is again in a ferment, and according to dispatches received by the state department more revolutionary troubles are expected there at any time. Unrest about Monte Christi and other northern ports of the island portend further movements against the government, and Commander Southerland, who is in command of the American fleet which is guarding the island against revolutionary expeditions, has been warned to be on the lookout for parties which are expected to reach the island from Porto Rico or other neighboring islands.

Boers Dislike Argentina.

Johannesburg, Transvaal, Aug. 15.—The government has issued a warning to persons intending immigrating to the Argentine Republic, pointing out the difficulties and disadvantages of so doing. Many Boers have returned home from Argentina and others are endeavoring to get back to South Africa.

Battleship Rhode Island Accepted.

Washington, Aug. 15. The report of the board of officers upon the final trial trip of the battleship Rhode Island has been received at the navy department. Under it the ship has been accepted, but some changes are necessary.

Two Police Sergeants Shot.

Taganrog, Russia, Aug. 21.—Two sergeants of police were severely wounded by revolutionists.

FIGHT OVER BRYAN

His Followers Reject Indorsement by Roger C. Sullivan.

CONTROL STATE MACHINERY

Battle Is Waged by the Two Party Factions In Illinois Democratic Convention — Resolution Condemning Sullivan—Chairmanship Compromise

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 21.—The Democratic state convention met here.

There was a fight for the control of the state party machinery between the faction headed by National Committeeman Roger C. Sullivan of Chicago and the immediate followers of William J. Bryan. Mr. Bryan, in successive letters from abroad, has asked the resignation of Sullivan from the national committee on the ground that the position was improperly obtained two years ago.

Sullivan has not only refused to resign, but he and his friends resent what they term the interference of Mr. Bryan in their state politics. Before the convention both sides predicted success. Sullivan claimed that he controlled 1,400 out of the 1,665 delegates.

Will Indorse Bryan.

The Bryan followers, headed by Judge Owen Thompson of Jacksonville and Congressman William T. Rainey, gave no figures, but asserted that they controlled the situation. They declared that unless the convention followed the wishes of Mr. Bryan and repudiated Sullivan, they would fight to the last against any indorsement of Bryan by the convention. Sullivan declared, on the other hand, that Bryan would be indorsed whether Bryan liked it or not.

The indications before the opening of the convention were for a long and hard fight. The first fight was expected over the selection of a chairman. The Sullivan forces brought forward Judge C. C. Boggs of Fairfield. The Bryanites favored Congressman Rainey. Just before the convention met, however, the Sullivan faction agreed not to oppose the introduction of a resolution in the convention condemning Sullivan and asking for his resignation from the national committee. This was satisfactory to Rainey and Thompson and the chances of a hard fight in this direction were obviated.

"We do not propose to make any trouble," said Sullivan. "They can bring in any sort of resolution they want. What will happen to their resolutions is another matter. We have the votes to control the convention and we propose to do it. When it is over there will be no complaint about gag rule and the overthrowing of the 'will of the majority.' Everybody will get all the chance he wants."

Hendrick Hudson's First Trip.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 21.—The new steamboat Hendrick Hudson of the Hudson River Day line made her maiden trip to Albany from New York. The boat is much larger than the other vessels owned by the Hudson River company. Over three thousand persons were aboard on her initial trip, but they were so distributed about her five passenger decks that there was little crowding. The boat received a continuous ovation from the other craft on her way up the river. The boat, in addition to its spaciousness and convenience, runs with extraordinary smoothness.

Why Bandit Could Escape.

Moscow, Aug. 21.—It is generally believed here that Belenzoff, the leader of the men who robbed the Credit Mutual bank at Moscow of over $400,000 March 20 and who recently escaped from custody while being conveyed from Switzerland to Moscow for trial, was deliberately allowed to escape at the instigation of a person in high authority in the Moscow police, owing to the fear that Belenzoff would make revelations regarding the complicity of the police of this city in the robbery.

To Promote Trade With United States.

Wellington, New Zealand, Aug. 21.—In the speech from the throne at the opening of parliament the governor of New Zealand, Baron Plunket, said that the promotion of trade with the United States and Canada would be one of the subjects considered during the session. The members would also be asked to consider proposals for a renewal of the subsidies for the San Francisco and Vancouver mail services.

Scouts Need Extra Clothing Allowance.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Nearly every enlisted man of the Philippine scouts in the island of Samar is in debt for clothing overdrawn. This deplorable situation is due to hard service in the mountains where the troops travel, frequently over country where there are no signs or semblance of trails.

Wyoming Farmers Against Wadsworth

Rochester, Aug. 21.—The annual picnic of Wyoming county grangers was held at Warsaw. Resolutions in opposition to the candidacy of Congressman Wadsworth were adopted.

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND.

Said That King and Cabinet Favor Liberal Bill.

London, Aug. 21.—Home rule for Ireland is a definite possibility. This announcement is made on the authority of a statesman who is intimately associated with the Liberal cabinet.

A surprisingly generous measure has been planned, and when introduced in the house of commons it will have the full government support as well as the friendly approval of King Edward VII.

Not only is this much now assured, but it is known further that the terms of the home rule bill have been practically settled at a series of conferences in which the king, the premier, Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman, and John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish party in parliament, took part.

It is stated that the details of the bill tentatively agreed upon by the king, the premier and Mr. Redmond are as follows:

An Irish parliament composed exclusively of Irishmen, sitting in Dublin.

Manhood suffrage in every borough.

Government aid for the revival of Irish industries.

The new home rule parliament to consist of one body.

Merely nominal veto power, such as the governor general of Canada has, but rarely exercises, lodged in a council.

Absolute right of the Irish parliament to levy taxes for local uses.

Elimination of general taxation for the support of the theological seminary at Trinity college.

NEMESIS FOLLOWS FAMILY.

Series of Accidents Involves Members of Emmons Household.

Iowa City, Ia., Aug. 21.—A strange chapter of accidents, involving the Emmons family, has been written within a short time. George Emmons was attacked by holdup men, robbed and thrown unconscious into nearby wagon; his wife was all but fatally burned, after she accidentally dropped a match in a pan of gasoline; one son was struck by lightning and at the same time hit by a large splinter from a tree, six yards distant, which was rent by the same bolt; another son, kicked by a horse, sustained a fractured skull, and a third fell from a tree and broke his arm.

A daughter of Willis Emmons, aged two and one-half years, swallowed a large quantity of furniture polish and nearly died as a consequence of the poisoning.

J. O. Emmons, stepping into a hole in the pavement, wrenched his knee. He has served notice on the municipality of a suit for damages in the sum of $600.

HARRIMAN'S BIG COUP.

Railroad President Said to Have Won $10,000,000.

New York, Aug. 19.—E. H. Harriman is credited with a profit of $10,000,000 from his coup in Union Pacific and Southern Pacific last week. There were a dozen other prominent railroad men and financiers associated with him in the 400,000 share pool which had at an average profit of $30 a share. King Edward of England is rumored to have been one of the chief beneficiaries from the rise in Southern Pacific.

The Union Pacific pool commenced to buy stock around 140 and has been buying up to 160. Probably the average price paid for a majority of the stock would be around $150 a share. In Southern Pacific a pool of several hundred thousand shares started to buy after Mr. Harriman came back from San Francisco last May. The bulk of this stock was taken in between 65 and 70 and showed a profit of over $20 a share.

In the cafes of uptown hotels and at the principal summer resorts near by where brokers congregate the entire talk the past few days was of the Harriman coup.

Sensational stories are afloat of the use that the Harriman directors made in the stock market of the advance information on the dividends on Union and Southern Pacific.

Accused Minister Insane.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Report of the lunacy commission case of the Rev. Stuart Bain, charged with arson, was opened by Judge Richardson at Waterloo. Bain was present with counsel, Clarence Ten Eyck. The text of the report is not yet made public, but it finds the accused minister insane, both at the time of the alleged crime and now. Bain will probably be committed to an asylum.

Higgins Not Disturbed.

Olean, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Governor Higgins was disinclined to comment on the action of the Republican state committee. He did, however, give out this statement: "I do not know that the action taken by the state committee materially alters the situation. If it proves to be in the interest of the Republican party it will meet my most hearty approval."

Anti-Greek Movement Grows.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 16.—The anti-Greek movement in Roumania and especially in Bulgaria is daily assuming greater proportions and threatens to become a serious danger to peace. The Bulgarian government, it appears, will be forced to take exceptional measures to terminate the disturbances.

Plan to Tax All Pullmans.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Corporation Counsel Lewis in attacking the valuation of the Pullman company before the board of review said that Chicago is the home of all Pullman cars and that they should be taxed here.

Practical Painters.

It's sound sense that we tell you.

Your work costs less dollars and is best every time you use the L. & M. Paint.

You do more painting with one gallon of L. & M. than with two gallons of other paints and the L. & M. Zinc hardens the L. & M. White Lead and makes the L. & M. Paint wear like iron.

4 gallons L. & M. mixed with three gallons Linseed Oil will paint a moderate sized house.

L. & M. Paint costs only $1.20 per gallon.

A. T. Terrell, Riverhead, N. Y., Writes, "16 years ago painted with L. & M. Only now requires repainting."

Sold by Spalding Hardware Co., Towanda, Pa.; Dewey Bros., Gillett, Pa.; Edgar Berry, Bentley Creek, Pa.

Pattern For a Slip and Guimpe Dress Designed by Martha Dean—No. 4024.

These who fashion little people's clothes appreciate the amount of labor involved in the garbing of little busybodies who are continually getting into dirt of some kind and must yet present a pleasing appearance all of the time. The little guimpe dress has been a favorite for some time because it enables the small lady to be daintily clad in some soft white stuff next the face, while the frock proper consists of dark material which will not show soil. A guimpe is a small thing to launder, yet it gives the effect of a fresh dress every day. The small dress portrayed consists of a slip made of dark plaid gingham or serge and a guimpe of white lawn daintily tucked in yoke effect. The slip fastens in back or on the shoulders. It is finished at the waist by a narrow stitched belt. A novel idea for trimming consists in bands of plain or contrasting material, which face the neck and armhole edges. The design is a very practical one, as it is easily made and easy to keep clean. For the medium size the slip requires two and a half yards of thirty-six inch goods, while the guimpe demands one and a quarter yards. No. 4024, sizes, 5 to 12 years.

Pattern For One of the New Cape Effects Designed by Martha Dean—No. 6713.

Capes and cape effects are decidedly la mode, and many a woman and girl will be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity. These little wraps are very trig and natty and require so little material and so little skilled labor in the making that they are proving very economical. The wrap shown is in reality a bolero with short, loose sleeves and a graceful double cape effect over the shoulder. It is made in old pink taffeta as shown, with a heavy insertion in the same color. The garment is one easily made and very pleasing. Linen, silk or broadcloth might serve as material. For the medium size three yards of thirty-six inch goods are needed. No. 6713, sizes, small, medium and large.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING

Send 10 cents to this office, give number of this pattern, No. 6713, and state size desired. It will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

FISH WARDEN EXONERATED.

Perley Nichols of Milan, Arrested by Constable McGovern, Released.

Another crowded court room saw another game fish trial, this time before Justice Johnson at Athens, on Saturday afternoon.

Deputy Fish Warden Perley Nichols of Milan, who had been arrested by Constable McGovern of Athens, was tried, and because there was not sufficient evidence to convict, was discharged. Several Athens lawyers took part in the prosecution, Nichols' defense being in the hands of Attorney W. P. Wilson of Towanda.

Nichols was charged with violating the state fish laws in taking game fish from the water which had been caught on an outline. Nichols admitted fishing with the outline, but declared that he and his companions, when they took game fish from the line immediately threw them back into the water.

Several witnesses for the prosecutnon, when placed on the witness stand were unable to make good on statements they had made previously.

The Athens contingent of fishermen are much wrought up against Nichols, but Attorney Wilson says that so far as he can learn Nichols is only trying to perform his duty, in the course of which he makes enemies. The arrest of the deputy fish warden is said to be an outcome of the arrest last week of Clarence Springer on a similar charge.

MORE TROUBLE FOR ITALIANS.

Pongee Salvadore, Of Boss Walsh's Men, Again Under Arrest.

Since the time, some days ago, that Boss P. J Walsh of the Italian laborers at East Towanda, disciplined Pongee Salvadore by beating him with an iron shovel, there has been trouble in the camp, and it came to another crisis Monday in the arrest of Salvadore upon a warrant issued at the instance of Walsh. The Italian, with several of his friends, it is charged, have made continual threats of violence against Walsh.

Salvadore was arrested Monday afternoon and placed in jail. Later friends came to his rescue, and he was released on bail. He will be given a hearing on Wednesday morn at 9 o'clock by Justice John Meredith.

Warrants are out for the arrest of several of Salvadore's sympathizers who have nat yet been apprehended. Those conversant with the trouble which Walsh has been having with his men say the are two sides to the story, but the foreigners are at a disadvantage in making their troubles plain.

Outing of Veterans.

The twenty-sixth reunion of the Seven County Veterans' association was held last week at Mountain park near Wilkes-Barre, and was largely attended. The association is composed of veteran soldiers from Lackawanna, Luzerne, Susquehanna, Bradford, Wayne and Wyoming counties in Pennsylvania and Broome county, N. Y. There were some 300 members present and with their families and friends formed a gathering of about 3,000 people. The day was a beautiful one and an enjoyable time was had by the old soldier boys. The business session was held in the morning and I. W. Fitch, president of the association, presided. The next meeting will be held in Nicholson, Wyoming county, and I. W. Billings of that place was elected president. G. W. Hammersley of Wilkes-Barre, is secretry .

Bishop, a brother of Factory Inspector E. W. Bishop of Towanda. He has been in South America for several years and is located in the center of the disturbance.

The World, The Man And The "Ad."

"If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods," says the Philadelphia Record, "the world will make a beaten path to his door." So wrote Emerson; and if the wise Ralph Waldo had added: "But that man must advertise," he would have given us both philosophy and practical fact at a single shot.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

NEW PRINCIPAL SELECTED FOR THE INSTITUTE.

Dr. A. W. Potter of Brooklyn, Will Open School Abcut Sept. 15.

The trustees of the Susquehanna Collegiate Institute have just closed a contract with Professor A. W. Potter of Brooklyn, to take the principalship of the school the coming year, and he expects to open the istitute about the middle of September.

Professor Potter is a doctor of Philosophy, a graduate of the West Chester Normal school and of the university of Illinois. For some time he was one of the faculty of the University of Michigan and for eight years principal of the Wilkes-Barre high school, being there before Superintendent Coughlin.

The doctor is also the author of Potter's algebra, and other textbooks, and is not only well equipped educationally, but is a pleasant gentleman to meet, and one who makes friends wherever he goes. The faculty for the coming year has already been engaged, but until Dr. Potter gets here, probably the last of the week, it will be impossible to announce the names of those who will assist him.

The Institute in the past has done much good for the young people of this county, and it is to be hoped that the spirit of the '70's may be revived, and that it may once more become one of the popular institutions of learning in this part of the state.

Great Freight Yard.

The announcement of the route of the proposed Keystone Air Line, which will traverse this state about on a line with Allentown, Sunbury and Leechburg, solves, it is said, the mystery surrounding the big purchases of land which have been in progress in Snyder county for the last year. These have given rise to all kinds of rumors, as the hundreds of acres bought about Shamokin Dam are for a great classification yard for the new system. This yard, which will be located on the West bank of the Susquehanna river, will be between Selin's grove and Shamokin Dam, extending almost from Penn's creek to the bank of the river. The yard will be one of the largest in the country, exceeding, on the plans as now drawn, the yards in Harrisburg and at Enola.

Italian Boy Maimed.

The Lehigh Valley "stub train" which runs from Sayre to Waverly struck and fearfully injured Nick Elms, a little Italian boy, at the Erie station in Waverly, Thursday night. Engine 687, in charge of Engineer Rolfe, pushed several cars over the Fulton street crossing near the Fulton Hotel, the cars knocked the lad down, and crushed his left leg so badly that amputation was necessary, after litle Nick had ben taken to the Packer hosuital in the ambulance. The lad was an orphan, and lived with his brother in Keystone avenue.

Police Think Murder.

The mangled body of George Whitney of Brandt, a well known man, was picked up, after a freight train had run over it. The Binghamton and Susquehanna police authorities believe that Whitney was set upon and after being beaten into insensibility, he was placed on the Erie tracks. Whitney had $47 and a fine gold watch on his person when he left his home at Brandt. No valuables were found on the body. Whitney is survived by his wife, four daughters and several brothers.

Perley Nichols Stil in Demand.

Immediately after his discharge before Justice Johnson at Athens, another warrant was sworn out for Deputy Fish Warden Perley Nichols of Milan, the complainant this time being one Chester Thomas, who also had been out with the fish warden on several outline expeditions. When the warrant was issued and placed in the hands of the constable, Mr. Nichols was not to be found and at last reports had not yet been served with the papers.

Martin—Russell.

A quiet home wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gillette, at Rome, on Saturday evening, Aug. 11, when their daughter, Miss Nellie, was given in marriage to John W. Martin. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. J. Niles. Edith Russell acted as bridesmaid and Samuel Russell was groomsman. After the ceremony a bountiful collation was served.

Car Blazed at Laquin.

Only the hardest kind of effort saved a car of charcoal which took fire at Laquin on Friday night. The car took fire from the load being improperly cooled before being placed in the car and the charcoal was saved only by unloading, the work being done by a fire department hastily organized from among the spectators.

Diphtheria in Sayre.

Sayre has a case of the dread disease, diphtheria, Jean, oldest daughter of Grant Forsythe, being ill with it. Dr. Stevens diagnosed the case Saturday night and prompt quarantine measures were taken. Anti-toxin has been administered and the patient is improving.

Big Sticks Scarce.

How completely the lumber industry of Pennsylvania is gone is illustrated by the fact that it was necessary to send to Oregon for the 75-foot stick of pine, from which to hew the flag staff on the new capitol at Harrisburg.

STATE CAPITOL ACCEPTED.

Commission Will Turn Back to State Treasury Some $40,000.

The new state capitol has been accepted by the Capitol Building commission from the contractors, George F. Payne & company, of Philadelphia, and turned over to the board of public grounds and buildings of which Governor Pennypacker is president. The commissioned announced at the close of its meeting that it would turn back into the state treasury between $30,000 and $40,000 out of the $4,000,000 appropriated for the building after its accounts have been closed.

After accepting the building from Payne & company, the commission made the final payment to the contractors, to whom the aggregate payments amount to $3,505,656. The commission will have to settle with Edwin A. Abbey and other artists for the decorations before closing its accounts and adjourning finally. The building is practically finished and is now being cleaned and made ready for the dedication ceremonies on Oct. 4. All the departments of the state government will be housed in the new building by the middle of September.

The last to move in will be the departments in the executive building, which is to be transformed into a state museum after it has been used as a banquet hall at the dedication of the capitol.

The present capitol takes the place of the old state house, which was destroyed by fire in February, 1897. The legislature of 1897 appropriated $550,000 for a new capitol and subsequently an additional appropriation of $4,000,000 was made. After the original appropriation was exhausted a new commission, with ex-Governor William Stone as president, was created. The commission discarded the original plans and specifications and adopted a new design.

The acceptance of the building by the commission carries with it the acceptance of the $60,000 bronze doors containing the heads of members of the commission and other distinguished Pennsylvanians at the main entrance. Col. Stone explained tonight that the most that could be said of these faces was that they resembled some people. "In the absence of any names," he added, "designating who they are, they can be taken only as types, and the fact that some people may see a resemblance in them to some people whom they know will not justify the commission in rejecting a work that is so expensive, so artistic and so satisfactory in every other respect."

Their Pictures Everywhere.

Among the "stock" souvenir postals that are beng sold in foreign countries is one that has on it the picture of our townsmen I. C. Fuller, the lumbering king of his section and W. P. Willson, president of the borough council. While in Europe a short time ago, these two citizens of the Great Republic togged out in uniforms suitable to the occasion—a white, high beaevr hat on the former and a Scotch cap on the latter—and with a couple of companions had their pictures taken while standing in front of one of the old buildings near London, England. Doubtless the company got hold of the negative and the picture being a good one and representative of the country around London, had them put up as souvenir postals. Mr. Willson received one of them from a friend in the old country, last week.—Wyalusing Rocket.

A Wysox Corn Crop.

During the entire Summer farmers in this section have repeatedly spoken of the "fine corn weather." An idea of what the results in sowed corn will be, may be gained from the record made by a section of green corn raised by William Wertenburg of Wysox. From 15 rows of corn, nine rods long each, this farmer sold 1,800 ears, in addition to that used by his family and neighbors during the season.

Red Men's Picnic.

Go-Hon-To-To Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, of Wyalusing, will hold their annual picnic on their "reservation," on Aug. 23. In the forenoon there will be a grand parade of Red Men, a ball game in the afternoon and a grand ball both afternoon and evening. This will be the third anniversary of the Wyalusing wigwam and several visiting chiefs and warriors will be in attendance.

Deer in Terry Township.

Gently loping toward the shelter of a swamp in the vicinity, Frank Horton, who lives about a mile from the Susquehanna river in Wilmot, saw a fine deer. When he saw the animal it was in Terry township, and not more than eight rods from Horton of whom the pretty doe did not seem much frightened. The swamp into which the animal ran is on the Post farm.

DR. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Breaks no Hearts, Excuses no Crimes.

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it cannot help, it does not harm. It is composed of vegetable ingredients and does not heat or inflame the blood, but cools and purifies it. In all cases of Kidney troubles, Liver complaints, Constipation of the Bowels, and the delicate derangements which afflict women, the action of Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of grateful people voluntarily testify to this, in letters to Dr. Kennedy; and with a warmth and fullness of words which mere business certificates never possess. It makes no drunkards—excuses no crimes—breaks no hearts. In its coming there is hope, and in its wings there is healing. We challenge a trial and are confident of the result. Your druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR a Bottle. Bear in mind the name and address: Dr. David KENNEDY, Rondout, New York.

L. V. R. R. PLANS BIG IMPROVEMENTS.

Will Electrify the Franch from Tunkhannock to Montrose.

Backed by capitalists of Wilkes-Barre and New York city, the Lehigh Valley Railroad company is about to electrify the branch of the road extending from Tunkhannock to Montrose, nd for the construction of an extension of the line to be operated by electricity from Montrose to Binghamton, says the Binghamton Herald.

The Montrose branch of the Lehigh is a single track affair and in the entire length there is not a single mile of straight or level track. It is one continuous series of curves and grades and it is very evident that the only practical means of operating the line is by electricity.

From Tunkhannock, where the line connects with the main line of the Lehigh Valley, the branch winds through one of the most hilly parts of Pennsylvania to Montrose, and the distance by rail is 27 miles.

Lake Carey is destined to be one of the most popular summer resorts in northern Pennsylvania and it is partly to develop the advantages of this lake that the Wilkes-Barre capitalists are interested in the movement to establish the electric line with adequate service to and from the lake.

Montrose is over 1,500 feet higher than Binghamton. The heavy grades of the railroads reaching that village make steam traffic next to impossible and for this reason the electric line was first considered. From Montrose to Binghamton the line of the proposed electric road extends through the lake country south of Binghamton. From authentic sources it has been learned that the surveys are complete and the financial backing for the project has been secured. It is understood that plans are being made for the commencement of construction early next spring, and it is believed that the installation of electric appliances for the Montrose branch of the Lehigh, at least as far as Lake Carey, will be taken up at about the same time.

Free Scholarships.

The Philadelphia School for Nurses has purchased large properties at 2219-25 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, and will extend the benefits of the free course in nursing to young women of every rural community and of the smaller towns and cities throughout the entire country. The course is two years, but may be shortened to 18 months by six months' reading and study at home. The school provides room, board, nurse uniforms, gives full instruction, and pays the student's fare home at the end of the course. A special short course is provided for those who cannot spend two years in the study but who wish to quickly prepare themselves for self-support. The object of those who are providing the funds for this work is to ultimately extend the benefits of skilled nursing to every village and township in the and. Nearly 200 free scholarships will be available this year.

Athens Maniac Taken Away.

After living for three days without food or sleep, the man arrested last week at Athens and declared insane, was Monday taken to Buffalo, from where the chief of police wired the man had friends. The stranger, who is believed to be named Houlihan, fasted in the Athens lockup, refusing to eat or drink, and the officers say, not sleeping during the entire time. It was first planned to place the man in the asylum at Burlington but the authorities later decided to take him to Buffalo. Officers O'Brien and Northrop made the trip with the demented prisoner.

Ominous News From Ulster.

Lehigh Valley station agent Dixon at Ulster sent a wire message to the police authorities of this borough on Tuesday, stating that an Italian who had been working there, left a note with a fellow countryman declaring that he had killed a man who hit him in the eye several days ago, and was now a fugitive. The Italians were much excited by the incident, but Agent Dixon's message said that no news of any foul deed was forthcoming. An investigation will be made.

Springfield Church Union.

A reunion of oldest living members of the Baptist church and congregation will be held in the Baptist meeting house in Springfield, Sept. 2, at 10:30 a. m. Speaker, Rev. T. Mitchell; chorister, David Sherman; organist, Charles Burt. The Burt brothers and others, members of the choir 30 and 40 years ago, are expected to be present and sing. A song service will be held in the afternoon after the dinner is over.

Woman Killed by Elevator.

New York, Aug. 21.—Miss Sarah A. Fletcher, a public stenographer and especially well known to the theatrical world, in which she held a leading business position, was instantly killed in an elevator in the Townsend building, Twenty-seventh street and Broadway, in which her office was located. The elevator attendant, Joseph Brown, who was arrested, told the police that her death was the result of her own carelessness. She tried to leave the car at the eighth floor, thinking it the tenth, and in so doing jostled the operator off his balance, causing him to throw the lever over so that the car shot up, crushing her to death between the floor of the cage and the top of the door on the eighth floor. She was fifty-five years old.

Trains In Head-on Collision.

Winsted, Conn., Aug. 21.—A passenger train on the Central New England railroad was in a wreck at Silver Nails, N. Y. The persons injured were J. P. Crilley of Poughkeepsie, supervisor of the road; Mail Clerk Thomas Fitzgerald and Fireman Patrick Hickey. The passenger train, No. 7, westbound from Millerton to Campbell Hall, was in a head-on collision with freight No. 30, eastbound for Canaan, Conn. The engines were interlocked by reason of the force of the impact. The road was blocked for a time.

Reduce the Price of Sugar.

San Francisco, Aug. 21.—After five months' competition by the Western Sugar Refinery and the California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining company the price of sugar has dropped from $5.15 to $4.30. In New York the price is $4.80, while at the Missouri river it is $5. The $4.30 price in the local market means the ruling figure for all the Pacific coast states. This figure is so low that southern and other coast beet sugar makers refuse to sell here.

Charged With Impersonating Brother.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Charles Elmer Watson, a clerk in the navy department, who was arrested recently, charged with having impersonated his brother, James Watson of St. Louis, in an examination before the civil service commission for an appointment in the department of agriculture, was held by United States Commissioner Taylor in the sum of $1,000 to await the action of the grand jury. Watson renewed his bonds.

Forest Fires Do Great Damage.

Boston, Aug. 21.—Reports from various parts of the provinces of New Brunswick and Quebec indicate that great damage has been caused by forest fires as a result of a prolonged dry season, while in northern and central Maine also many fires of greater or less extent have been burning for several days.

Thunder Shakes Building Down.

Haverhill, Mass., Aug. 21.—The concussion from a heavy roll of thunder is thought to have been the immediate cause of the collapse of an old building here, by which one person was seriously and two others slightly injured.
